10,000 FLEEING REFUGEES BURNED

REPORTS INDICATE DISASTER MAGNITUDE NOT OVERDRAWN

New Calamity Overtakes Stricken Tokio When Approximately 10,000 People Seeking Refuge In Factory Are Burned to Death.

BEND EVERY EFFORT TO HELP SUFFERERS

Exact Number of Dead Still Unknown But Estimates Generally Place Total at Over 300,000 — American Assistance Enroute.

THOUSANDS BURNED.
(Associated Press.)
OSAKA, Sept. 5.—Approximately 10,000 refugees fleeing from the ruins of Tokio, were burned to death in the yard of a military clothing factory in the industrial suburb of Hongo.

AMERICANS KILLED.
NAGASAKI, Sept. 5.—The family of the American commercial attache at Yokohama, E. G. Babbitt, are all dead. T. DeJordin, the French consul at Yokohama, also was killed in the earthquake.

FOREIGNERS LOST.
PEKING, Sept. 5. — One hundred foreigners are believed to have perished in Yokohama, says a Reuters dispatch from Osaka, received here this afternoon. The dead include the American and British consuls.

ITALIAN ENVOY DEAD.
ROME, —The Italian ambassador to Japan, G. DeMartino, is reported to have perished in the earthquake.

FOOD SITUATION CRITICAL.
OSAKA, Sept. 5.—Water and provisions are reported still scarce in Tokio. Three persons are sharing a single piece of bread.

ESTIMATES NOT OVERDRAWN.
(Associated Press.)
As the story of the Japanese disaster is unfolded in the fragmentary messages from press association correspondents, Japanese newspapers and individuals it is apparent that the magnitude of the catastrophe has not been overdrawn.

In only one dispatch has there been a suggestion that the death list will not reach the proportion already indicated. This was a message from the Radio Corporation of America in Japan which said the Japanese home office estimated the dead in Tokio at 10,000 and in Yokohama at 100,000.

On the other hand, Admiral Edwin A. Anderson, commanding the United States asiastic fleet says the latest unofficial reports give the casualities in the capital and Yokohama as 240,000 dead and 450,000 injured.

A wireless message from Admiral Anderson to Rear Admiral Edward Eberle, chief of naval operations, conveying this information was picked up in San Francisco. Naval officers in San Francisco believe that Admiral Anderson who is speeding to Japanese waters, obtained advices of conditions in Japan by radio before communicating with Rear Admiral Eberle.

Estimate 3240,000 Dead.

Another estimate, this one coming from the Eastern News agency, says that 320,000 persons have been killed in the entire stricken district.

Fresh calamity has overtaken smitten Tokio and the terror stricken remnants of its population. Nearly 10,000 people seeking refuge in the yard of a military clothing factory located in a suburb were trapped by flames and burned to death. Food and water are scarce in the capital.

Two hundred and sixteen distinct earth shocks were felt in Tokio last Saturday, followed by fifty-seven on Sunday. The most severe tremor was of six minutes duration.

The flames that swept the capital burned for fifty hours, leaving Tokio and its environs in ruins and desolation. Fire and earth convulsions together have devastated an area of twenty-one square miles in and about Tokio, demolishing 350,000 houses.

The suffering of Yokohama, too, appears not to have been exaggerated. An official statement received by U. Oyama, the Japanese consul general in San Francisco, says that the great port itself and the Yoko-

RESISTANCE IN RUHR TO END

Opinion Prevalent In Berlin Banking Circles That Germany Soon Will Propose Official Discussions With France and Belgium.

(Associated Press.)
BERLIN, Sept 5.—Germany has arrived at the end of her tether so far as her further ability to finance passive resistance is concerned.

This is the current opinion in banking circles, which expect that Germany in the course of the next few days will take the initiative in the direction of proposing that official discussions be begun with the French and Belgian governments.

That the Ruhr and the Rhineland fight has been lost by the government and the army of German resisters now is also tacitly admitted in political circles, although the press has not yet discussed the situation with which the government is confronted. It is believed, however, that the German editors have been informed by Chancellor Stresemann that the government would seek to force a solution of the Ruhr conflict soon.

The situation in the occupied area also is steadily becoming worse, both in respect to economic conditions and the temper of the resisters who no longer are able to maintain the solidarity necessary for a united front.

WANT 10,000 IN CLOWN PARADE

Registrations Are Extended to Thursday Noon to Accommodate Public.

Chamber of Commerce Issues Invitations to Officials of Nearby Cities.

WANTED—Ten thousand clowns.

The committee in charge of the clown parade to be staged Friday night announced Wednesday morning that the registration of entries for the clown parade would be extended to Thursday noon in order that all might be able to take part who so desire.

Registration to date give the greatpromise of a mammoth parade. Over one hundred and fifty business houses are planning numerous stunts and floats as well as other features. It is expected that the entire length of the parade will exceed five miles.

The committee is making its greatest drive in securing all the individual clown entires possible, for the clown section will be one of the biggest features of the parade. Money prizes will be awarded the winners of each of the sections.

A reviewing stand will be erected at Thirteenth and O street where the judges and guests will view the parade and pick the winners.

Issues Invitation.

The chamber of commerce has issued the following invitation to officials and chambers of commerce of the Lancaster and adjoining "Lincoln will present for your entertainment as the closing feature of a wonderful State Fair, a big clown and industrial parade on Friday night, September 7. The parade will move at 7 o'clock.

"The mayors of cities, towns and villages, and their wives and the presidents and secretaries of chambers, commercial clubs and community clubs, and like organizations, and their wives are extended a special and cordial invitation to be the guests of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce that evening, and to occupy seats on the reviewing stand which will be erected at the intersection of Thirteenth and O streets. As a special favor, we are requesting the mayor to extend this invitation to the presidents and secretaries of commercial and community organizations.

'O" street is beautifully decorated with overhead colored lights.

There will be thousands of clowns in the parade. There is room for any number more, and we shall be glad, indeed, to have all of the towns represented. Any of your people desiring to participate in the parade should notify us by letter at once.

We are asking our invited guests to meet at the Chamber of commerce at half past 6 o'clock. They will then be escorted to the reviewing stand."

A NEW PARLEY TO END STRIKE

Governor Pinchot Meets With Anthracite Miners and Operators Effort to Terminate Walkout Involving Thousands.

ATTITUDE OF BOTH SIDES IS UNCHANGED

Strikers Themselves Firm In Belief That Suspension of Operations, Started Last Saturday, Will Be Of Short Duration.

(Associated Press.)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 5.—Governor Pinchot this afternoon led committees of anthracite mine operators and miners union officials once more into conference in an effort to reach a settlement by which the suspension of mining operations may be brought to an end.

There was no indication from any of the parties to the controversy of any change in attitude toward the governor's peace proposals when they went into executive session a few minutes after 2 o'clock standard time.

Back to The Wall.

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 5.—Fighting with his back to the wall, Governor Gifford Pinchot met this afternoon with the anthracite operators and miners, whose differences precipitated a strike in the hard coal fields last Friday.

Having failed to break the strike, he will endeavor to bring the two factions together and make the stoppage of production of as short duration as possible.

Settlement, so far as Pinchot is concerned, will be reached only on the basis laid down by him last week. This basis includes a 10 per cent wage increase, establishment of a basic hour day, recognition of the principle of collective bargaining and full recognition of the union with a semi-check off.

Governor Pichot is known to fear that the mediation of the strike will be taken out of his hands by officials at Washington. His political fortunes hang squarely on his success or failure. Prompt action is the only thing that will save him, he believes.

To forestall a transfer of mediation, the governor's political advisers are sponsoring the statement that "no one could offer a better solution—upon no other plan could settlement be based."

As the conference hour approached, however, a distinct atmosphere of optimism prevailed. Feeling seemed to be general that the outcome of the latest conference will be favorable.

Expect Quick Termination.

WILKES-BARRIE, Pa., Sept. 5.—Anthracite strikers are firm in the belief that the strike inaugurated last Saturday will be of short duration. They believe they can win more in a short struggle than they can in a long one. The majority of the 150,000 strikers believe that within ten days the mines will be reopened.

This belief is nothing more than a hope buoyed up by the statements of the union leaders.

Hard coal operators do not hold such an optimistic view. They contend that the miners must make decided changes in their plans it peace is to come quickly. The demand for the check-off will have to be abandoned, the operators say, and the demand for a big increase cannot be granted.

Unofficial reports today are that the miners will accept a 10 per cent advance, providing there is a greater increase for day workers.

Many Visitors See State Penitentiary

The state penitentiary has proved to be a very interesting place to the many people who are now attending the state fair in Lincoln. Nine hundred visitors were shown through the institution Monday and over 1,200 visitors went through Tuesday.

Explosives Not Used at Beatrice

No explosives were used in breaking into the office of the Beatrice Creamery Co., at Beatrice, Monday night, according to Walter Schroeder, state thumb print expert. The safe lock was broken open by using a pipe wrench. The amount of money was only $182.77, but the thieves also carried away some real estate deeds and leases which were in a metal box.

PRESSES ACTION AGAINST MAJORS

Farmers' Union Presents Summary of Evidence to Back Its Charges.

Peru Man Will Have Inning With Governor Before Decision Is Made.

Five men comprising the legislative executive committee of the Nebraska Farmers' union called on Governor Bryan and laid before him Wednesday morning a summary of their reasons for asking to have Col. T. J. Majors of Peru removed from the state normal board, of which he is president. Subsequently, Dan Morris of Kearney, a member of the board, was closeted with the governor.

Completes Its Showing.

Mr. Bryan told newspaper men that the farmers' union committee has now completed its showing in the matter and has filed documentary exhibits in support of its demands. Included in these data is a report of an investigation which James Auten of Albion and J. O. Shroyer of Humbodit, two members of the committee, made at Peru last winter.

The governor emphasized the fact that the matter is not a political one. The chairman of the farmers' union committee, C. C. McLeod of Stanton, is a leading republican, having served in the legislature, the 1920 constitutional convention, and on the republican state committee. The committee includes two republicans, two democrats, and one nonpartisan leaguer in its personnel. Besides the three named, there are J. P. Stoltz of Milford and H. C. Elwood of Creighton. All were present at Wednesday's conference with Governor Bryan.

Majors Will Have Chance.

"I do not think it would be proper to give out anything at this time," Mr. Bryan stated, "or until those interested on the other side have had an opportunity to present their case. Some members of the normal board have been out of the state and have not yet returned. I shall have to decide, after hearing both sides, whether conditions exist that call for action on my part."

CIVIL WAR VETS IN BIG PARADE

Nebraskans Take Part In Annual March Which Is Held at Milwaukee.

(Associated Press.)
MILWAUKEE, Sept. 5.—Turning aside for the moment from the Sunset trail, 1,000 Cival War veterans formed in regular marching order of the days of '61 to '65, swung into line with feeble steps in the annual parade of the Grand Army of the Republic here today.

In addition to the marchers, automobile after automobile carrying those whose physical condition did not permit them to follow the flag on foot, wheeled into line, completing the nine divisions which formed a column of four miles front.

The column began forming at 9:15 o'clock and at 9:45, Colonel Johnson reported to George A. Howsely, chief of staff, that the signal gun was awaited. Commander-in-chief Willeit signalled the starter to fire promptly at 10 a. m. and the first division began to move. Marching at the rate of ninety steps a minute, each unit had fallen in when Sixteenth street was reached, with the reviewing stand in front of the postoffice building one and two-tenths miles away.

Nebraska civil warriors marched in the Fifth; Iowa and Kansas in the Sixth and South Dakotans in the Seventh division.

FAIR ATTENDANCE.

Thursday	43,283
Friday	35,541
	223,648

Out of town automobiles were passing through the State Fair ground gates Wednesday morning just about as fast as ticket sellers and checkers could handle them, according to the gatekeepers. The five car gates at the main entrance were running at full capacity at noon. Cars began to enter the grounds at 6:30 in the morning and continued to stream in without any letup until 2:30 in the afternoon. Most of these cars were carrying from three to five persons paying admission. Estimates on the attendance Wednesday varied widely, some placing it as low as 40,000 while others estimated the crowd would be near 60,000. Judging from attendance records of past years, Wednesday's attendance should be about 15,000 to 20,000 above that of Tuesday. It is doubtful if this will hold true this year. Fair officials will be satisfied with 45,000 to 50,000.

Studying Exhibits.

While Tuesday was a record breaker as to the number of automobiles on the grounds, Wednesday will exceed it according to Superintendent of Gates Tolen. Wednesday is Farmers' day—especially set aside for the Farmers Union and the Farm Bureau. That it was farmers' day

ADVOCATES UNION OF FARMER-LABOR WORKERS IN U. S.

Speaker at Federation Convention Urges Two Groups to Join Forces.

Declares Only Such Action Will Bring Them Into Their Full Rights.

The fifteenth annual convention of the State Federation of Labor held its opening meeting at the Lincoln central Labor Temple, Wednesday morning. About sixty delegates from throughout the state were present.

Mayor Zehrung welcomed the delegates to the city. R. A. Wilson of Omaha responded in behalf of the delegates. The business of the morning consisted of the formal opening of the convention and the appointment of committees. Miss Alice L. Daly of Mitchell, South Dakota, a representative of the Farmer-Labor party of that state, spoke on the work and possibilities of that organization.

Urges Farmer-Labor Party.

In speaking of the present condition of the farmers and laborers of the country she declared that these great masses representing a greater per cent of the nation's population would never get anywhere with out political action and an organization of 100 per cent of both labor and farmers.

She dealt mainly with the farmer problem, stating that she always spoke of the farmer's problem to a labor crowd and of the laborer's problems when speaking to farmers. The union of the laborers and the farmers was the point she stressed emphatically. The farmer, she declared was on the wrong track and the work ahead was teaching him to use his head more and his body less. At present he is forced to work fifteen hours a day to pay even the cost of production.

"We have never used the power we possess and it is time we put more thought to the matter."

The meeting adjourned at noon and will reconvene Thursday morning. Free tickets to the State Fair were distributed among the delegates and they plan to attend Wednesday afternoon.

Lost Police Badge Returned to Mayor In Strange Manner

Last spring while he was touring through Iowa, an overcoat was stolen from Mayor F. C. Zehrung's car which was worn by P. H. Cooper, former chief of police in Lincoln, and, before his death, a very close friend of the mayor.

The mayor reported the matter and asked that if the star ever be located that it be sent to him.

Recently Chief of Police Johnstone received a letter from the chief of police at Iowa City informing him that a Lincoln chief's badge was in his possession. Chief Johnstone replied and asked that the badge be sent to Lincoln.

Nothing further was heard until J. B. Hill, manager of the Lincoln Gas and Electric compnay, walked into the mayor's office Wednesday and gave him the star. A detective of the Iowa City force had given it to Mr. Hill to return to the mayor, Mr. Hill having formerly lived in Iowa City and returned there for a visit.

The mayor is entirely mystified as to how the star was located but intends to write the Iowa City chief and find out.

Italian Representative, M. Salandra, Tells League Council Intervention In the Quarrel With Greece Is Entirely Unjustifiable.

CECIL WARNS COVENANT MUST BE RESPECTED

Wireless Report From American Solon Indicates War Cloud Blown Over In Greece But Says Crisis Approaching In Belgrade.

(Associated Press.)

NEW WAR RUMORS.
LONDON, Sept. 5.—Sensational rumors came out of the Balkans and Italy this afternoon. It is admitted in diplomatic circles that the situation is still sufficiently acute to cause fears of war. Servia is reported to be mobilizing.
Bulgaria and Rumania were said to be taking precautionary steps, fearing another Balkan war.
Premier Mussolini, according to Rome advices, is getting ready to take fresh action against Greece at the end of the week unless Greece meets the Italian demands or the league of nations is powerful enough to prevent.
Great Britain is standing by, giving full support to the league of nations.
Italian statesmen from Mussolini down reiterates daily there will be no war. They base this declaration upon the belief that Greece will not dare provoke a war.

GENEVA, Sept. 5—Italy's representative, M. Salandra, told the council of the league of nations today that Italy would regard intervention of the league in the Greco-Italian crisis as unjustified. The league, he asserted, had no competency in the affair, which belonged properly to the inter-allied council of ambassadors.

The Italian government expressed it, irrevocable opinion through him that the council should not accept the Greek request that the league take up the matter. By her appeal, said Signor Salandra, Greece sought to escape her responsibilities. He emphasized that the present Greek government had not yet been recognized by a great number of countries; hence the necessity of Italy seizing Corfu to obtain satisfaction for the assassination of the Tellini mission.

The ambassadors council, he said, was the logical body to handle the incident, because the question of living up to the terms of the peace treaties was concerned.

M. Politis, former Greek foreign minister in reply said Greece had no desire to escape her responsibilities and showed her good faith by requesting the appointment of neutral commissions of investigations.

All Europe Threatened.

Lord Robert Cecil of England added a sensation by insisting that Articles 10, 12 and 15 of the covenant of the league of nations should be read immediately both in French and in English, and by declaring that if these articles were to be disregarded, the whole settlement of Europe would be shaken.

The articles in question were cited by Greece as the basis of her appeal to the league.

Further discussions of the Greco-Italian crisis was adjourned to an undetermined date, but perhaps tomorrow, in order to give the members of the council an opportunity to examine the Italian declaration and decide upon their future attitude.

M. Politis remarked that it was for the council to say whether it was competent to deal with the Greek affair and not for one of the parties to the dispute to declare the league's incompetency.

"The latter would mean that the league was not to operate for the maintenance of peace," added M. Politis, "but merely a kind of official body, effective only when two parties had reached an accord."

Press Is Anxious.

LONDON, Sept. 5—Friends of the league of nations among the British newspapers are gravely perturbed at Mussolini's threat to withdraw should the league insist upon intervening in the Greco-Italian conflict.

"The league is challenged at its foundation, it must take up the challenge or abdicate," says the Daily Chronicle. The Morning Post asserts that the leageu is now at the very crisis of its career and that it almost looks as if this present situation would be its death warrant.

Other newspapers urge the league to stand fast, which would mean suicide. On the other hand, both the Daily Mail and the Daily Express indulge in tirades against Lord Robert Cecil. The latter newspaper visualizes the dire consequences that would result from the application of a moral ant economic boycott to Italy, which it says, would spell war wherein Great Britain and France would have to do most of the fighting.

APPRAISAL FAILS TO SATISFY MANY

Lincoln County People Want Second Check On Cost Of Court House.

(Special to The Star.)
NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Sept. 5.—The audit of cost for the new Lincoln county court house is not satisfactory to the Taxpayers' league, at whose instance it was ordered. Mr. Shuman on behalf of the league called at the Chicago offices of the Lloyd Thomas Appraising company, which made the audit, and called attention to the fact that different contractors had offered to construct the court house for less money than was paid, yet the appraisers who came here fixed the cost at $23,000 more than was paid.

The appraising company is to send another man at its own expense to recheck the appraisal.

Committee of seven appeared before the county commissioners to protest against the payment of the Lloyd Thomas company claim until after the reappraisal should have been made, but the commissioners disregarded the protest and allowed the bill, which was for $2,140.84.

The attorneys for Sam Souder, former county treasurer, who was arrested at Titusville, Fla., charged with having stolen securities belonging to Lincoln county, have wired him, advising him to waive extradition and return to North Platte at once. The coupons that were presented for collection in Florida and said by officers to have been clipped from bonds that were in the safe in the office of the treasurer of Lincoln county on the night of the fire. Souder was supposed to have been in Florida assisting in straightening up the estate of Peter Jepsen.

Boy Placed on Probation—Gerald Talcott, College View, was placed on probation for 30 days by Police Judge E. B. Chappell, Wednesday morning. It is alleged that Talcott had been prowling in the vicinity of Twenty-second and U streets Tuesday night, but he declared that he was waiting at the time for a street car. The lad admitted, however, that he had stopped in front of the Walter Miller home there and looked in at the door a moment, but had intended to go right on. Miller caught him and filed a complaint.

FEW APPLICANTS FOR ANTI-TOXINE

Health Bulletin Says People Do Not Realize Benefit of Preventatives.

In a bulletin released Wednesday morning by Dr. C. F. Chapman, superintendent of the department of health, an appeal for a change in public opinion in regard to prevention of disease is made.

A half day each week was recently set aside for the purpose of administrating toxin-antitoxin, the bulletin states, but within a few weeks there were but few applicants. Toxin-antitoxin is a sure preventive against diphtheria, and is harmless, it states.

In Lincoln there have been forty-two cases and seven deaths from diphtheria up to August 1.

The bulletin concludes: "The word eeducation covers a lot of territory, but in this instance means, if the people in Lincoln were thoroughly educated along health lines they would demand immunization against diphtheria for children under ten years who are susceptible to the disease, and the pasteurization of all milk. These problems are being agitated and are, to some extent, being carried out, not to the satisfaction of those who realized the great benefits to be derived by action along the lines mentioned."

REVUE CONTINUES BIG HIT AT FAIR

With Changed Program Decided Success Is Scored Tuesday Evening.

Ernie Young's Revue again scored a success when a second and entirely different program was presented Tuesday evening before a crowded grandstand.

Never in the records of the State Fair has there been such a delightful and gorgeous spectacle as has been given at the evening entertainments this week.

Pagliacci Is Featured.

The first act Tuesday evening featured the prologue from Pagliacci, was sung by a young tenor with remarkable ability. A chorus of lovely girls in exquisite costumes added a great deal to the beauty of the act.

A bowery act brought enthusiastic applause from the audience, and the principals and chorus were forced to repeat it time and time again. Clever costumes, together with personality and catchy music put the act over big.

The prettiest number on the program was the balloon chorus, where a score of girls in attractive balloon costumes, and carrying myriads of vari-colored balloons gave a balloon dance, followed by Miss Grace Morgan, soprano, who sang a lovely balloon song. At the close of the song, Miss Morgan and her chorus released the balloons which floated into the air.

Close With Military Finale.

A military finale closed the big show, which was followed by an aerial bar act and fireworks.

During intermissions between acts, a number of super vaudeville acts were given.

Another performance will be given this evening, and still another Thursday evening.

CLOSE CALL FOR DOCTOR'S FAMILY

Autos Crash at Intersection and Physician, Wife and Young Son Hurt.

Dr. H. Guy Brown, of the state hospital, and his wife and twenty-months-old son, John Robert, narrowly escaped serious injuries when the automobile he was driving overturned at Thirteenth and South streets about 4:30 Tuesday afternoon, following a crash with an automobile driven by Blain Mullen, of Adams, Neb. According to police information the Brown car was practically demolished.

The little boy suffered cuts on his hand and wrist from flying glass, and bruises to his head. Dr. Brown and Mrs. Brown were badly bruised when they were thrown to the pavement following the collision.

Brown was driving east on South street, he said, when the Mullen car, which was coming west on the same street, turned south on Thirteenth street and crashed into his car, overturning it. The other auto was but slightly damaged, the doctor said.

Spillman On Trip To Pacific Coast

Attorney General Spillman, after attending the American bar association meeting at Minneapolis, went to Washington state to take the deposition of a witness in the John O'Connor estate case from Hastings. Mr. Spillman thought the testimony to be obtained from this witness was important enough to justify going after it.

The O'Connor case has been in the courts for nearly ten years, and several state officials at different times have traveled long distances to take depositions pertaining to it.

If none of the numerous private claimants to the property succeeds in proving title, it will come to the state under the law of escheats. The estate was valued at $90,000 to $100,000 at the time O'Connor died. W. T. Thompson of Lincoln has been representing the state as special counsel in resisting the private claims.

Orders Woman To Pay Husband $5 Week Alimony

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5—"Marriage is 50-50," said Judge John W. Summerfield of the superior court, in ordering Mrs. Mary Scranton to pay her husband, Charles Scranton, $5 a week as temporary alimony, pending trial of his suit for separate maintenance.

Scranton testified his wife, who earned $150 a month in a bank, deserted him. He said he was ill and unable to work.

"This couple married for better or for worse," remarked the court. "The husband has broken in harness. I am afraid the wife will have to pull a double load for a while, at least. Marriage is a case of give and take."

FAIR MANAGERS REALIZE HOPES

Objectionable Features of Midway Give Way to Better Class Shows.

So-Called Games of Chance Gone and Public Need Not Fear Being Fleeced.

A clean State Fair has been the fond hope and cherished ambition of Nebraska Fair officials for several years. Slowly but surely, they have been weeding out objectionable features and closing in on the character of entertainment permitted. It has also been the aim of the management to provide clean looking grounds, and this has been achieved this year as never before A new Midway was built where the old eye-sire dairy building stood, giving the grounds a changed appearance. Down the middle of the Midway a wide space for side shows was provided. To fill this space with a clean, reputable attraction was the problem. After considering a number of amusement companies, the Fair officials called on Con T. Kennedy to bring his caravan to Lincoln. Close inspection of the Kennedy side-shows confirms the faith of management's selection

Cleans Up Midway.

The so-called games of skill or chance which in the past have brought much criticism, have been entirely eliminated, and the public can now visit the Midway shows with a feeling that they are not going to be fleeced

Rides for the children and younger folks have been provided down the middle of the Midway. The newest of these is the Caterpillar, one of the latest riding devices. The familiar ferris wheel continues to turn slowly with its burden of joy-riders. The Fair would not be complete without a merry-go-round which is there to mainly take care of the children. For the more daring, there is the aeroplane and the butterfly.

An Interesting Attraction.

An interesting attraction is found in Elsia's booth where a half man and half woman, living, is exhibited. This person is one of the great physical peculiarities of the world. One half of the body resembles a man in that it is coarse, heavily boned and mascular. The other half is refined and shapely as a woman. Feminine features and behavior predominate, however.

John Chambers, the armless wonder, writes with his foot about as well as the average person does with his hand. Entirely devoid of arms, Chambers developed his lower limbs to perform the functions of the hands and arms. He picks up an ink pen with the toes of the left foot, places it between the toes of his right foot and writes with his feet in a reading position.

His Fingers Are Trained.

Billy Curran plays the drum with anywhere from one to eight drum sticks and does it with ease. Nimble fingers trained to the limit permit this kind of a performance

Essie Fay presents a group of colored minstrels, entertaining with their singing, witticisms and dancing. A seeress in this tent quickly tells a person's initials when written on paper entirely out of he sight

A fight for life is presented in the Seminole Indian village when the Florida Indians struggle and fight with wild alligators This show is presented in natural Florida settings.

Fearless women have displaced the men in the motordome These feminine racers drive motorcycles at a dizzy speed around the cup shaped track. In another attraction, small monkeys race in tiny cars propelled by electricity

For vaudeville, Kennedy has brought his Radio girls and bathing beauties The Radio girls present several dancing and singing numbers, while his nymphs display considerable acquatic ability.

COATS

Hundreds and hundreds of beautiful garments

There are two distinct types favored this season—the traveling, sport or utility type, and the more dressy coats which oftimes will do duty for all occasions.

The first group includes coats of those sturdy materials that motorists, school girls, business women prefer—plain, striped and plaid effects. Some of these are fur trimmed. The second group includes coats of rich, luxuriously soft materials in black, brown, "Kit Fox" gray and the soft tans. Many of these are handsomely trimmed with furs.

DRESSES

Silk and wool dresses will enjoy about equal favor, it is believed The silk especially for afternoon and informal evening wear, will be less simple than in seasons past Pleatings, flounces, embroideries, bias tiers, etc. appear in rather elaborate effects on many of the silk frocks.

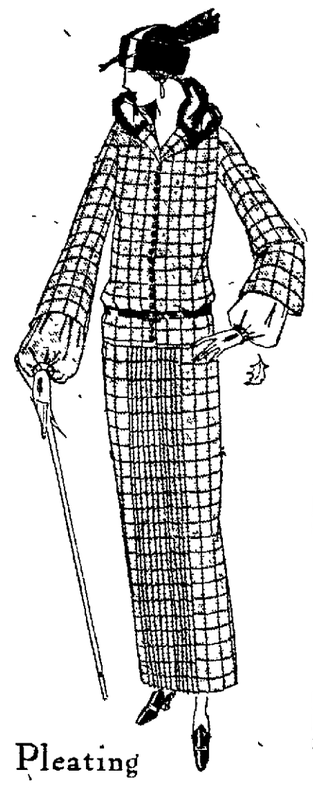

Wool Dresses have annexed many of these ideas giving more adornment than usual with wool. Lines are simple, however, in spite of trimmings and the tailored appearance is the most smart

SOUDER IS AGAIN MADE A PRISONER

Former Treasurer of Lincoln County Arrested In Florida.

Is Charged With Stealing Securities Belonging to County.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Sept. 5.—Sam Souder, former treasurer of Lincoln county, under indictment by the grand jury for embezzlement and arson, was arrested in Titusville, Fla., on a complaint charging him with stealing securities belonging to the office of the Lincoln county treasurer.

August 25, under the name of Henry Keller, forty-four coupons belonging to bonds of the Birkwood Irrigation district, were given to the Lincoln River Bank of Titusville for colection and the amount of these coupons, $264, was sent as a sight draft upon the local county treasurer. The sheriff of that county was notified to investigate and Souder's arrest followed.

Sheriff Berthe left Tuesday evening for Florida to return with Souder. Souder left North Platte several weeks ago with a carload of horses for sale in the Florida markets and was expected by friends to return this week.

Try This On Your Catarrh

Ordinary methods of treating catarrh are failures, simply because they do not reach the affected areas. You've got to heat those raw, tender spots that are hidden away where liquids and sprays never touch them The best and most effective method is to inhale the fumes of "Deo" each night and morning.

Gently heat a spoonful of "Deo" in a tin plate and draw in deep breaths of the pleasant, soothing vapor. This penetrates every nook and corner, destroying germs and gradually healing inflamed membranes. Right away you will begin to feel better Hawking and spitting will lessen and your head will be clearer.

"Deo" is the trade name of Dennis' Eucalyptus Ointment — composed entirely of antiseptic healing oils. Guaranteed to give satisfactory results or money back. Sold in 50c jars or tubes by leading druggists everywhere. Dennis Mfg Co. makers, Berkeley, Cal. —Advertisement

Ask Your Neighbor

There is hardly a neighborhood in the United States where women cannot be found who have derived benefit from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For nearly fifty years this botanic medicine has been overcoming some of the worst forms of female ills. As one woman has been benefited by its use she has told others who have used it with the same good results; so the use of this great medicine has spread from shore to shore by the recommendation of those who have found it good. Therefore, ask your neighbor; let her tell you from experience the benefit which ailing women derive from its use.—Advertisement.

Power to Stop!

Buick Four-wheel Brakes

BUICK four-wheel brakes provide a factor of safety welcomed by every driver. No matter how careful he may be there are moments when the power to stop his car quickly and surely averts a serious accident.

Buick four-wheel brakes operate simply by light pressure on the foot pedal. There is no change in the method of operation over former Buick rear wheel brakes.

Buick rear brake construction has proved its dependability for many years. Identically the same principle, simple in its mechanism and effective in its braking control, now has been employed on the front wheels.

The adoption of four-wheel brakes by Buick on its 1924 cars is wholly in keeping with its policy of giving the owner everything that will increase his safety, comfort and satisfaction.

The 1924 Buick cars likewise are distinctive for their beauty, their increased power, ease of operation and comfort—giving features never before found on motor cars.

Minerva's Mail

Take Your Troubles to Minerva

A Sensible Girl.

Dear Minerva: For over a year I have read and discussed the letters and your advice, which is always fine. But I have never written, I have often found advice which has helped me, but as I read the letter from "A Mere Flirt" in Sunday's paper, I soon found a pen and some paper.

I was surprised to read of a 15-year-old girl writing for advice when she said she could not stop stepping out. I am not old fashioned, I have a great many friends, and have good times, but my hair is not bobbed. I some times wear rouge and use lip stick, but not always

I do not go with every Tom, Dick and Harry that casts his lovely brown eyes in my direction.

I have two awfully good friends (which are brothers), yet I can hardly say they are friends, for they seem like brothers to me, and they care quite a bit for me. They are older than myself, and are both hard workers.

I really think a little more of one, but I try to treat them the same

They are not soft and mushy, but are just what I want them to be. good pals and brothers and perhaps more We take our troubles to each other, and we understand each other perfectly, and have good times.

And to read a letter as "A Mere Flirt" wrote, we would think she lives on kisses Of course we are only young once, but yet is it right to be kissed and caressed by every boy and man? A kiss is not a little thing, it is a part and parcel of almost the biggest thing that a girl has to give—her love and herself.

Men think very lightly of any girl that gives her favors to every man for the asking.

I am young, yes, in my 'teens," and will be for a year or two, and like kisses, but not for the fun of giving them. If they are given with a true meaning it is different, isn't it Minerva?

No man wants a girl that he knows other men have had her lips Don't you think that she, that signed herself "A Mere Flirt" is taking rather a dangerous risk for her future by letting every one love her?

I believe that in later years, when this girl is married, she will be thinking, 'I wish I had only known one pair of lips, and not every ones, and she will soon be wanting other lips, besides those that should mean so much to her. Am I right Minerva?

YOUNG BUT EXPERIENCED

Why Not Specialize?

Dear Minerva: I am a girl of 22, am supporting myself. I am now working at housework. I still have a desire to go to school, as I have had all my life; I am now thinking of taking a business course in some business college so as to prepare myself to do something besides housework, as I dont care to make this my life occupation.

I love to have lots of friends, both boys and girls, but as to sweethearts, I do not care for one and never did. It seems to me that there is no man I could ever choose for a life companion I sometimes feel that I am to spend the future alone, and I am sure I can be more happy in an office than doing housework. Please advise me. CONSTANT.

A. I approve of your taking a business course and fitting yourself for higher things in life. If you have qualifications along that line. If you are a splendid cook though or find household management easy to do expertly, why not specialize along those lines. Very high wages indeed are paid the experts in such fields of work, for they are rare. You could strive to fit yourself as manager of a tea room or cafe, housekeeper in hotel or hospital, etc But if you are really sure you would be happier in office work than housework, then by all means save your money and take a business course You can find plenty of places where you can work for your board and room and small pay while going to school

Time will not doubt remedy your indifference toward men—time, and the right man. It is refreshing to hear of a girl now and then who is not "man-crazy."

Wants Magazines.

Dear Minerva: I should like to ask through your Mail for old copies of the Ladies' Home Journal, Geographic Magazines, and all such magazines that contain pictures. I'm anxious to secure these for use in my normal work. My phone number is College 357. Thank you.

Too Indifferent.

Dear Minerva: Last fall I became engaged to a young man with whom I had been keeping company for several years. As he did not want me to go with other boys I dropped all my friends and just went with him. He always said he did not care to go with other girls and I know he never went with them. We had planned to be married this fall. Over a month ago while I was out of the city he seemed to change; he treats me quite cool and does not come to see me very often. Although he says he still cares for me I feel that he does not. I still wear his frat pin and he has never asked for it.

I think a great deal of this young man and was willing to give up everything for him. He has taken me away from all my friends, both boys and girls and now leaves me all alone. Would you advise me to leave the city and go some place else and try to forget all about him? I do not live at home so I am free to leave the city if I choose. MARIE.

A. I would not leave the city unless it was absolutely impossible to forget the young man, without doing so That is, if reconciliation is out of the question. Tell the young man you want to know frankly if he wishes to be released. Assure him that you prefer the truth, if it hurts, as all women do. What we despise is suspense and uncertainty Tell him you are unhappy under the regime of indifference upon which he has entered, and that you must seek other friends and diversions.

RELIEF CAMPAIGN WELL UNDERWAY

Red Cross Raising $5,000,000 to Aid Japanese Quake Sufferers.

State Department Seeking Information of Americans In Stricken Zone.

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Fixing of chapter quotas throughout the country today was the signal for the formal launching of the campaign of the American Red Cross to raise a $5,000,000 relief fund for sufferers in the Japanese earthquake zone.

Divisional quotas totaling $5,250,000, the excess above the $5,000,000 goal being fixed to permit adjustment, were announced at Red Cross headquarters last night and divisional managers were instructed to assign quotas for all of the 3,060 chapters of the organization.

The managers of the six divisions were urged to impress on all workers of the organization the necessity of meeting the responsibility placed upon it in President Coolidge's proclamation of "representing America in the crisis." Red Cross officials here expressed hope that the total would be quickly subscribed and pointed out that the need for quick relief made it impracticable to attempt the collection of any but cash contributions.

Meanwhile the organization has placed an advance relief fund at the immediate disposal of American diplomatic and consular officers in the stricken area.

Despite the continued handicap of communication difficulties the state department today was pressing its efforts to obtain information as to Americans in the stricken zone. Not only have lists of those of whom relatives and friends have sought information been sent to American diplomatic adn consular officers in Japan, but consular officers stationed at other points in the orient have been ordered there to assist in the work of obtaining information as to American citizens and giving them any assistance needed.

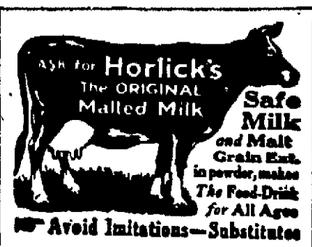

3,000 Americans Were Probably In Earthquake Zone

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—While the government has no exact figures on the number of Americans in the devastated areas of Japan, inquiries have been made concerning the safety of approximately 3,000 Americans believed or feared to have been in the orient at the time of the catastrophe, it was learned today.

State department officials pointed out, however, that it is probable that hundreds of those for whom inquiries have been made will eventually be found not to have been in the disaster zone.

Her Neighbor's Advice Helped Mrs. Frick

MRS ADA FRICK
PERRYSBURG, OHIO

"YOU can be just as healthy, strong and happy as I am,' said one woman to her neighbor after listening to the description of her ailments,—'if you will take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My condition was very similar to yours, I suffered from those awful bearing down pains, weakness, backache, nervousness and headaches until I could hardly drag around. Today I am strong, well and happy because I followed the advice of a friend who had been greatly benefited by this old-fashioned root and herb medicine."

Nearly fifty years ago Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass. prepared from medicinal roots and herbs Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Its fame has spread from shore to shore. You will now find in every community or neighborhood some woman who has been restored to health by its use, or has some friend who has. Therefore ask your neighbor.

Thousands of unsolicited testimonials such as the following are on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and prove the merit of this medicine. Therefore no woman should continue to suffer from such ailments.

Mrs. Frick Tells of Her Experience

PERRYSBURG, OHIO—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I suffered with pains in my sides all the time. I can't remember just how long I suffered but it was for some time. One day I was talking with a neighbor and I told her how I was feeling and she said she had been just like I was with pains and nervous troubles and she took the Vegetable Compound and it helped her. So then I went and got some and I certainly recommend it for it is good. Whenever I see a woman who is sick I try to get her to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MRS. ADA FRICK, R. ITALY'S FOLLY.

Italy's representiative, M. Salandra, is reported in Wednesday's dispatches to have informed the league of nations' council that Italy would regard intervention of the league in Greco-Italian affairs as unjustified.

The league, he asserted, had no competency in the affair, which belonged properly to the inter-allied council of ambassadors.

Mussolini Italy's autocratic premier, has apparently gone mad with power but he is playing a dangerous game for high stakes. His suggestion to refer the Greco-Italian dispute to the inter-allied council of ambassadors cannot be seriously considered, and no one knows that better than Mussolini. It could not have been suggested in good faith. The inter-allied council of ambassarods possesses no official standing among the nations of the world. Its organization came out of the world war, and its prime purpose was for preliminary consideration of some of the problems growing out of the world war, particularly with reference to reparations questions. Its orders and decrees are not binding in any particular, and it possesses no machinery to enforce them.

If Italy hopes to retain the sympathy of the civilized world, she will have to change her tactics.

Already she has seriously endangered her standing among the nations of the world, and particularly those members of the league of nations, with whom she entered into solemn covenant to preserve the peace of the world. Her refusal to abide by the agreements which she entered into when she took her place among the nations joining the league does not add to her national prestige, and her honor. Italy, in recent months, has shown evidences of ambitions which have threatened peace in the Near East. Her desire to extnd hr interests in the Adriatic has been a continual sore spot. The latest developments in the Greco-Italian dispute would seem to be in furtherance of that ambition to grab.

Italy is entitled to recourse for the assassination of five members of the boundary commission. It is time for the Italian government to realize, however, that the murders were not premeditated by the Greek government. but were promptly disavowed and steps have been taken by Greece to punish the murderers. They were the acts of civilians, for which the Greek government is ready and willing to settle. Consider the occupation of Corfu. That was an act by the Italian government in retaliation for the killing of the boundary commission members. It had the government's official sanction and was carried out under governmental orders. In killing the orphan children at Corfu as an act or reprisal, Italy committed a much graver crime against civilization than the act which called it forth.

It is easily within the power of Europe, and all of the civilized nations of the globe to punish Italy if she refuses to mend her ways. An embargo against her will quickly bring the people of Italy to their senses. A ban against all trading with Italy, and a refusal to grant her credit will bring her golden dream of conquest and expansion tumbling at her feet.

She deserves ostracism by the civilized world if she persists in her mad folly.

The bootlegger's favorite song: "I hear you calling me."

LIGHTENING TAX BURDENS.

"The Lord helps him that helps himself," says on old maxim. The meaning is that in order to accomplish anything one must depend mainly upon his own efforts.

There has been a strong demand in Nebraska for reduced taxes. The state government has taken the lead in meeting it by cutting its aggregate tax levy 80 per cent a year ago and 13 per cent more this year. But state taxes are not the major part of the burden. County, municipal and school taxes constitute three-fourths to four- fifth of the total. Hence it appears that substantial tax reductions, like charity, must begin at home.

Some counties, Lancaster among them, have matched the state's reduction by trimming their own expenditures in about the same ratio. Many of them, however, have not made any cut, and quite a number have actually increased their tax rate this year. As a result, their people will have to pay in increased taxes to the county as much as they will save through the lowering of state taxes, or more.

Right here is where the old saying applies. "The Lord helps him that hedps himself." The people of each county elect the men who assess their taxes and spend the public funds. If the people want taxes lowered they should elect men who will carry out their wishes. The state has done its part by slashing state taxes more than 40 per cent in two years. It is up to the local government—county, municipal and school—to match this showing as far as possible, if they have not already done so.

It is worthy of the taxpayer's attention that in thirty-six counties of Nebraska where a comparison has been made the state taxes are reduced this year by over $579,000, whereas the net reduction in county taxes is only $18,873. In other words, the state has reduced $31 for every $1 which the counties themselves have cut, as compared with a year ago.

INSURING EDUCATION.

The growth of the idea that a college education is desirable if not necessary for our children is evidenced by the growing enrollment in all institutions of higher learning and in other ways. One of those other ways that seems to point to an end of almost universal college educations among future generations, is the "college insurance" idea which only recently has come to be common the country over.

Insurance has been devised to cover almost every known kind of risk to which life or property is subject. Now it is possible to insure one's children against an unprepared future by assuring them a college education in spite of unforeseen accidents Hundreds of thousands of parents are finding in this new kind of insurance a way of providing a higher education for a child by slow degrees when the prospects have been poor for such provision before.

It is just possible that such general acceptance of the idea is not altogether good for the affected coming generation. We have always had an idea that the most valuable and most valued education was the one the young person helped secure for himself and if college insurance is going to take that chance away from the youth and add heavy burdens onto the shoulders of parents, it is surely not an unmixed blessing for either.

THE HORSESHOE TOURNAMENT.

No so many years ago we recall the time when we used to throw out our chest and strut a bit when we "hooked a ringer" or even threw a "leaner."

That was the life.

To send the old horseshoe hurtling through the air; to watch her light, and, if by chance, she happened to circle the iron peg. Oh, boy! Life was never more roseate than in those days, and satisfaction with self never more complete.

It takes a bit of conceit out of the average fellow, who has watched the progress of the first State Fair horseshoe tournament. It all looks so easy—just a little toss, and there's another "ringer." But we have rather vivid recollections of when we attempted the same thing, and somehow it was different.

The first horseshoe tournament at the Fair has been a big success. Eighty entries, old and young, have been entertaining the crowds since Monday, and if anyone lugs a notion that horseshoe pitching is a lost art in Nebraska they should sit in for a session. The Fair management has provided twenty horseshoe courts for the tournament immediately north of the Agricultural hall and provided bleachers for the spectators. The bleachers were not large enough to provided for all who wanted to see the sport on the first two days and the crowds swarmed around the fence surrounding the courts.

There's a bit of good-natured rivalry in the rooting which is as well organized and as enthusiastic as at a ball game. Each community has its own favorite and he is not lacking in vocal support.

The optimist can find a lot of material in his belief that human nature is improving by watching the horseshoe tournament at the fair. It's not so profane as golf, and some other games we might mention.

UNFORTUNATE CRITICISM.

The criticism recently voiced by Secretary Knudson, of the Nebraska state banking board, of the War Finance corporation's work in this state was unfortunate.

The administration of the activities of the War Finance corporation, which Mr. Knudson attacked, grew out of the demand throughout the entire middle west for additional relief for the farmer. The relief, which was demanded, was additional credit in order to permit the farmers to meet some of the pressing obligations which they had incurred during the period of expansion, and, also to permit them to carry over crops, and hold their live stock. It was an emergency measure, drafted to meet a serious condition existing throughout all of the rich farming sections.

Just how effectively it was administered can best be judged by results. Within a comparatively few months additional credit was provided for the farmers of Nebraska to the extent of $12,000,000. The work of passing upon the loans was handled by five Nebraska bankers, who gave their services freely without compensation. Their administration of affairs has given this state an enviable record among the different states in the activities of the War Finance corporation. Of the $12,000,000 loaned here, $11,000,000 has already been repaid. It is doubtful if a single dollar will be lost on bad paper. How much better record could be desired? It is greatly to the credit of Nebraska to have it known throughout the nation that she has promptly and fully met her obligations to the war finance corporation.

Naturally there will be isolated instances of seeming hardships in administration of the law. That is to be expected, owing to the varying elements to be considered in the extension of credit. But Secretary Knudson's criticism with reference to the holding of an excessive amount of surety touches upon the act itself and not upon its administration. The law specifically provides for holding all of the security until the loan was satisfied.

The War Finance corporation met the situation when money was scarce, and could not be obtained in the ordinary channels of business. Now credit is easy, and the work of the organization is completed.

A WISE MOVE.

No one single move on the part of board of managers of the Nebraska State Fair will meet with more general approval than the action taken to eliminate all games of chance from the Midway. The old familiar hoop and ring throwing boards, the wheels of fortune, and the numerous other devices calculated to entice the nickles and dimes from the pockets of the unwary are gone because the fair board decreed there should be no games of chance. The question of gambling does not enter in, for in these so-called games of chance, the victim does not have a chance.

We are glad they are gone and we believe the public feels the same way about it. The Fair management is to be commended for carrying out its vision of clean entertainment, and particularly for eliminating the fake games of chance.

EXPLODING POPULAR FICTIONS.

One by one or favorite fictions about our great and near are being replaced by common sense realization that they too were mere human beings, subject to the temptations and to at least some of the weaknesses as well as most of the strengths that plague and encourage the average person. True appreciation of our national heroes can never be realized until they are removed from the rosy haze of supernatural goodness and omnipotent wisdom.

Some service in this line has been given to the public by Ida M. Tarbell who has written much about Abraham Lincoln and whose latest contribution is contained in an article published in the September issue of the American magazine, entitled, "Abraham Lincoln's Money Sense."

Many of the stories of Lincoln's poverty as well as some of the common fables of his lack of business acumen are exploded by the author who reminds us that in spite of his early struggles and failures and his disposition to under charge for his fees, he left an estate of more than $100,000 which is comparable with an estate of a half million today.

We learn with relief that all his investments were not loans to financially unstable friends or needy widows but were careful financial ventures of a conservative and shrewd business man. We are told that his campaigns, even his early political adventures, were conducted by a Lincoln, who was well-dressed, and that his wedding clothes were as good as customary for such important events in the ordinary family. Mr. Lincoln is credited with having saved $25,000 before his election to the presidency and his salary in that office—$25,000 a year—furnished the remainder of his private fortune. So far as is known his largest fee as a lawyer was $5,000 but he had several cases which netted him a thousand dollars or more.

This kind of information is more than welcome. It brings Lincoln into the class of the average human being and it makes his greatness and his achievements all the more marvelous and his name more valued to posterity.

A Bit of Homely Philosophy

RANTING ABOUT THE WEATHER.

You fuss and sputter about your office because of the heat.

You remove everything in an effort to be cooler.

You wonder at the complacency of others, why they do not worry about the "humidity of the air" as you do, why they can stand it to keep so much clothing on when you cannot do it?

These persons are perhaps no cooler than you would be if you were not fussing and fretting so much about the heat.

Is it not silly to add to the discomfiture of sultry weather by worrying and fuming about it?

But this is exactly what you do.

Summers are always warm and you have not the power to change them.

There are many disagreeable things about you and your circumstances and your relations to others which you might change if you would but it makes you too much trouble to do it.

Then why be so stupid as to rant about the weather which comes anyway, whether or no?

PEACHES AND PERSIMMONS

Hint to wives: About the only sure way to keep a husband in is to keep him in bad.

As we remember the Boston police strike, the cool in Coolidge doesn't refer to his feet.

President: An official people can nag at when their follies and extravagances get them in bad.

A dangerous fanatic doesn't become very dangerous until some fool in authority makes him a martyr.

It seems to require a great deal of force to make the Italian enjoy his deliverance from Bolshevism.

This mad and heartless striving after money seems especially wicked to those of us who can't get any.

As a rule, the man who whines for a square deal is whining for a set-up at a corner pocket.

Don't think he is important just because he appears to have a grouch. Who ever heard of a grouchy winner?

A peace loving land is one where only 8 per cent of the people know the second verse of the national anthem.

The strange part is that a woman can't be an "affinity" without getting some practice as another man's wife.

A free country is one in which no man is suppressed except the one whose arguments the majority can't answer.

Men are more modest. A woman will make up her face in public, but a man won't even make up his mind in public office.

Those African natives who use a jaw bone as a musical instrument probably produce nothing more atrocious than our chin music.

Later triumphs never afford the thrill a small boy feels when first he learns to spit through his teeth.

Our notion is that women are naturally more heroic than men. Who ever saw a man with nerve enough to pluck his whiskers?

It isn't disregard for his comfort that makes a man wear a high collar so much as a fine contempt for the beauty of his Adam's apple.

Correct this sentence: "If you will let me have a hundred," begged the intimate friend, "I can make a killing and I'll split with you."

The fault of the average highbrow is that he never knows whether to like a performance until he reads what the critics say next day.

It may be that modern novels contain fewer illustrations because the illustrations would necessarily be too naughty to pass the censor.

AUTO SALESMAN HAS CLOSE CALL

Confronted by Wall of Water In Narrow Ravine Near Alliance.

(Special to The Star.)

ALLIANCE, Neb., Sept. 5.—Jack True, automobile salesman for the A. H. Jones company of this city, had a narrow escape when his car was caught by flood waters in Nine Mile canyon. Mr True was on his way from Scottsbluff to Alliance when he saw a small stream of water flowing down one of the gullies, and when at about the center of the ravine, he noticed that the front wheels of the car sunk down into the mud. Glancing up the guly he saw a torrent of water at least seven feet high rushing down toward him. He made a flying leap from the car to the top of the ravine just as the flood waters engulfed the vehicle.

It was necessary to tear the car to pieces and clean out the mud and sand before Mr. True could continue his journey to Alliance.

HUSBAND DEAD WIFE ARRESTED

Portland Woman and Alleged Lover Held Pending Investigation.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 5.—Mrs. Jane Slovak and her alleged lover, John Kulo, were arrested yesterday following discovery of the poisoned bodies of her husband, James Slovak, 42, and his daughter, Cecilia, 9, in their home here.

A "suicide note" on the kitchen table first led police to believe that Slovak poisoned himself and his daughter.

Later investigation aroused the vague suspicion that the note was "framed." Handwriting experts are examining it.

Mrs. Slovak and Kulo, it was learned, for some time had been friendly, and had attended a dance the night before together. The woman said she discovered the dead bodies on her return home. Her unemotional attitude further aroused suspicion, police stated.

The key was later found on a road near the city limits.

THOUSANDS LOST THROUGH NEW LAW

Materimonial Business Flocks From Nebraska Into Other States.

(Special to The Star.)

FREMONT, Neb., Sept. 5—According to County Judge Waldo Wintersteen, the new marriage law is going to cost Nebraska many thousands of dollars. He roughly estimates that $75,000 worth of matrimonial business will be transferred to adjoining states. Judge Wintersteen says that not only the county license funds suffer, but losses will be sustained, also, by local merchants, jewelers, florists and hotels. Several couples seeking the privilege to marry have applied at the office here, Judge Wintersteen says, only to leave without getting their license when they found they would have to wait ten days. Most of these couples, he says, hasten by the first train to Council Bluffs, Ia.

An inquest was held by Sheriff Jones immediately after the lifeless body of Farrar was found lying across a bed in the B. F. Lovering home. The jury's verdict was that Farrar came to his death from poison administered by himself.

Many From York Attending Fair

(Special to The Star.)

WAHOO, Neb., Sept. 5.—If the remaining counties of the state are represented at the Fair by anything like as large a contingent as this county is sending down there will be an unprecedented attendance this year. During all hours of the day and night cars are headed toward the capital over the S. Y. A. Especially is this community sending a big delegation, something like seventy-five automobiles from eastern York county passing through this village between 6 and 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. Those who were at the Fair Monday, returning in the evening, report an exceptionally good fair and thrilling auto races. Hundreds are going on Wednesday, and all the auto race fans will be there on Friday.

FEDERAL OFFICER GIVEN PRISONERS

Men and Women Arrested at Alliance Are Taken to Omaha.

(Special to The Star.)

ALLIANCE, Neb., Sept. 5—Alliance and Box Butte county police authorities witnessed a rather unusual spectacle at the court house, when Sheriff Charles W. Fletcher of Holton, Kas., in Jackson county, staged a battle with James C. Emery of Omaha, representing United States District Attorney Kinsler, for the possession of the two men and women arrested Thursday of last week by acting Chief of Police Oberlin, when suspicions that the quartet were riding in a stolen automobile proved correct.

The Kansas sheriff, who disliked to return to the Jayhawk state without his man, retained the services of Attorney H. E. Gantz when it developed that the United States government was also after the prisoners on charges of violating the Mann act. Mr. Gantz and the Kansas sheriffx put up a good argument, but Federal Court Commissioner Frank M. Broome of Antioch, was called to Alliance to sit in the case, and Raymond Blair, 21, of Bartonville, Ill., coal miner, and Edward Jenkins, 23, St. Joseph, Mo., laborer, were held for trial in federal court on a charge of transporting Marie Puckett, 22, and Opal Bebe Sheldton, 16, both of St. Joseph, from another state for immoral purposes. The two men were placed under bonds of $1,000 each and the two girls bonds were set at $2,500. All will be taken to Omaha to await the next term of federal court.

FAIR TURNSTILES CLICK OFF RECORD OVER A YEAR AGO

Attendance Tuesday Not Up to High Mark But Surpasses Count In 1922. Star Musical Attractions Continue to Please as Do Other Features.

Tuesday's State Fair measured up to all expectations when 34,915 persons passed through the gates. This was considerably more than last year when the attendance was 28,341, but it is less than two years ago when 36,221 were admitted. This falling off in attendance on Tuesday was expected by Fair officials who find that the auto races and Labor day coming on Monday are strong enough to attract many who would otherwise come on Tuesday.

Count More Automobiles.

While Monday's attendanace was larger than yesterday's, more automobiles went through the gates Tuesday than during either of the two previous days. The records show 3,030 cars Tuesday, 2,867 Monday and 1,727 Sunday. This substantiates the gate superintendent's statement Tuesday morning, when he stated that most of the cars admitted were from out of town.

Quietness prevailed over all the grounds Tuesday, different from Monday in that no roaring racing cars were tearing up dust on the track in the afternoon. The horse races drew a fair sized assemblage into the grand stand. Auto racing is scheduled again for Friday afternoon.

Entertainment Is The Best.

If anything at the Fair this year is different from anything heard or seen before, it is the entertainment and musical program on which the Fair management has concentrated its efforts. It spared no expense in bringing Conway's band from New York, and this organization has already brought enough commendation to justify its employment. The board of managers of the Fair is convinced that the fair-going public wants and appreciates high grade music. No band showing such a high degree of careful training, expert musicians and willingness to play has ever been heard at the Fair grounds.

Soloists of Wide Repute.

For a couple of years, the state fair management tried to do without soloists of a national reputation, but taking them out of the program left a gap that could not be bridged with ordinary entertainment. They feel fully justified in their bringing Mme. Vorah Vorba, Belgian soprano, and Carlo Fevretti, Italian baritone, here this week to accompany Conway's band. In the band is an exceptional musician, H. Benne Henton, who is known as the world's premier saxophone virtuoso. Several enchores were demanded of him by the brim-full auditorium.

When State Fair officials want to move the crowd from one side of the grounds to the other, they call on Dan Des Dune's colored band of Omaha to parade. This is one of the few bands that is called back to the fair year after year. They have so fully satisfied the visitors and management that they are almost looked upon as a permanent attraction. In front of the grand stand each evening before the musical revue, Dan Des Dunes' musicians nearly work the crowd into feverish excitement with music, singing and jigging.

Corson Sextette Pleases.

Cora Youngblood Corson with her sextette continues to soothe the tired visitors at various places on the grounds where these able women musicians play each day. The Tennessee minstrels have also lived up to their reputation.

OWSLEY WOULD FORGIVE ENEMIES

Favors Admitting Germans and Austrians Into International Veterans Body.

Legion Head Says Entente Must Be Maintained at Any Cost.

(Associated Press.)

BRUSSELS, Sept. 5—Col. Alvin Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, in an address before the fourth council of the interallied federation of former combatants, yesterday urged the allied veterans to dismiss passion and hatred from their hearts and create an atmosphere which would permit the admission of the German, Austrian and Russian veterans into the federation, thus making it a truly international body.

Deputy Charles Bertrand on behalf of France and Belgium, replied that as soon as the former enemies showed the slightest sign of good will and made reparations for the harm they had done, a place would be found for them.

"We represent here the men who did the fighting," asserted Colonel Owsley. "Surely," he added, "there must be some way in which we can speak to the men we fought and make them realize there is a better way of living among nations than continuing battling one another. They are the only menacing power you see on your horizon.

Colonel Owsley said the entente must be maintained at all costs, but he notified his auditors that it was wrong to say the American delegation cast its lot on the side of any particular nation. "The United States delegation," he asserted, "is on the side of those who it believe to be right and against those whom it believes to be wrong."

"On behalf of France and Belgium who suffered most particularly whose soil was invaded and devastated," replied M. Bertrand, "I say that we are ready to forgive and forget, but in order that there may be forgiveness, there must be repentance.

"For four years Germany has been intact and she has failed to show either forgiveness or repentance."

The resolution that the congress put its seal of approval on the Ruhr occupation was introduced by Marcel Heraut of France on the committee on peace. In effect it says that the congress is united in approval of the action of France and Belgium with regard to the Ruhr to the extent that Germany must pay reparations and that occupation was the proper means by which to urge the Germans to pay.

They were taken to the Lincoln sanitarium, but, with the exception of Margaret, all later went to their homes.

Estimate 1,000,000 Homeless In Capital of Japan Alone.

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Two official messages received today at the offices of the Japanese consul general estimated the casualties in Tokio and the vicinity from the earthquake at 160,000, with one million persons homeless.

"All telegraph wires to Tokio and Yokohama are destroyed and there is no means of communication with the foreign office," said the message relayed by Consul Oyama. "Fire, earthquake and flood destroyed much of the city. Some of the fifteen wards escaped damage almost entirely. They are Kosihikawa, Ushigome, Yotsuya and the northern half of Aoyama.

"It is estimated that one million persons are homeless and the casualties are given as 160,000. Great damage was done to Yokohama and Hakone. The two cities of Tokio and Yokohama are under martial law and earthquake relief bureaus has been established in Tokio. All available army units are marching towards Tokio for relief purposes.

"No word has been received as to the safety of the families of the consulate staffs or as to any private individuals."

The Makino message, which reported the safety of the emperor and empress and prince regent and the death of three other members of the imperial family, added:

"The earthquake was very terrible and the casualties are estimated at 160,000. The entire business district and downtown section of Tokio were almost completely destroyed. The imperial palace and all the residences of the imperial family suffered damage, but none of them was completely burned down."

Exhibits at State Fair Demonstrate Different Methods

Two kinds of Nebraska farms are shown side by side in the booth put up in the extension hall at the State Fair by the state extension agent in animal husbandry, agronomy and engineering.

One farm is typical of a large percentage of Nebraska farms where the hog lot is situated permanently on the poorest part of the farmstead. The lot is small and over pasturedd. Dirty holes and poor drainage makes the lot the reasonable home for the pigs shown in the pictures on the wall.

The other farm has plenty of pasture and the ideal system of rotation of lots, individual houses and legume feeds, self feeders and watcrers. Pictures on the wall on this side of the booth are as true to life as the other pictures. They show even sized pigs, the ones that make profits for farmers.

A moving screen tells the story of roundworm control. Hog sanitation projects all over Nebraska are proving that none of this is foolishness, but that prevention of diseases and worms is the only solution of the pig raising problem of the state.

Agronomy is represented with legume crops, the value of pastures in hog lots and the new hog feeds, soy beans and sudan grass.

Blue prints of the popular individual hog houses and the central farrowing. Nebraska type houses are also shown.

House Robbed While Family Attends Fair

L. F. Uland and family, living five miles north of Lincoln on First street, returned home from the State Fair late Tuesday afternoon and discovered that during their absence robbers had entered their home and carried away ninety-three quarts of canned fruit and thirty-five chickens. Fifteen of the chickens were hens, weighing three and one-half pounds each.

Deputy Sheriff H. W. Craig went to the Uland home Wednesday morning and made an investigation.

Following is the haul made by the robbers:

Thirty-two quarts of pitted cherries, eighteen quarts of peaches, eighteen quarts of grape butter, twelve quarts of apple butter, twenty-two glasses of jelly, eight quart jars of pelly, five quarts of wild plume and six quarts of other mixed fruit.

Nonpartisan League Again Preparing to Jump Into Politics

No active work is being done in Nebraska by the non-partisan league at present, but the organization is getting ready to renew its political effrorts, State Manager J. E. Larkin annbunced Wednesday morning, following a conference of league members Tuesday evening.

A joint conference of the league's executive state committee and the executive board of the paper which has been heretofore recognized as its official mouthpiece, together with stockholders and members in general, will be called for the latter part of September or early in October.

At that time the matters of financing organization work and league publicity will be taken up. O. S. Evans, former state manager who went from here to South Dakota has recently returned to Lincoln and is interesting himself in the reorganization plans.

Coolidge Makes First Address

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Making his first public address since he became chief executive, President Coolidge advised 500 members of the united national association of post-office clerks whom he greeted today at the white house, to render their country "everything an American citizen should desire—building up the resources of our nation, strengthening its charactr for yeourselves and those who co-operate with you."

BRYAN SOLICITOUS ABOUT YAMASHITA

Japanese Student Who Attached Himself to Household Was In Tokio.

Solicitude was expressed Wednesday morning by Governor Bryan as to the fate of Y. Bryan Yamashita, the Japanese student who came to Lincoln twenty-five years ago and attached himself to the household of W. J. Bryan while attending the University of Nebraska, from which he was later graduated. When last heard from, Mr. Yamashita was at Tokio pursuing a special line of work for the Japanese government.

He became a long distance admirer of W. J. Bryan from reading his famous "crown of thorns, cross of gold" speech and other utterance in the presidential campaign of 1896. A year later, he sent word from Japan that he was coming here to make his home with the Bryans. Disregarding all letters and telegrams to the contrary, he arrived in Lincoln and presented himself at the Commoner's residence. The family capitulated and took him in.

After finishing his university course, Mr. Yamashita returned to Japan. Durin gthe world war, he was sent to the United States as an agent of his government to purchase steel and other supplies for war use. He came on another trip to this country as a secretary with the Japanese delegation at the Washington arms conference.

Refferring to the Japanese earthquake disaster and the need of extending aid to the people of the stricken country, Governor Bryan said:

"It hardly seems that any formal appeal should be necessary to arouse the people of Nebraska to a sense of their humanitarian duty in helping to succor the unfortunate victims of this unprecedented calamity.

"The president of the United States has issued a personal statement urging that organized relief be provided, and I feel sure that Nebraska will make a generous response, as it always has done in supporting measures to relieve misery and suffering in other lands."

Paxton-Gallagher Coffee Is Popular With Fair Visitors

Over 135 gallons of coffee are served daily at the Paxton nad Gallagher booth in Manufacturers' building at the state fair grounds. The average run is about fifteen gallons an hour beginning about 9 in the morning until 6 o'clock in the evening.

Nine persons are kept busy during the nine hours handing out hundreds of paper cups of Butternut coffee. Three urns run continuously, using about seven and one-half pounds of coffee an hour.

Thirty quarts of cream nad twelve pounds of sugar are required for the coffee served each day. It is estimated that over 6,500 cup of coffee are served daily.

The demonstrators came to the Nebraska fair from the Iowa state fair where about the same quantity o coffe ewas handed out.

Offer Rewards For Return of Boys Who Left Home In Omaha

Fifty dollars reward is offered by parents of two Omaha boys who ran away from home sometime after 7 o'clock Monday evening. State Fair police were notified of their escape. The parents believe that the youths set out to see the fair. Truman Frederick Taylor, 13, 5041 South Twenty-fourth, is described as being five feet three inches tall, having light brown hair combed pompador, dark brown eyes, slim face, wearing a light blue shirt, new overalls, patent leather shoes with khaki tops and an old blue serge cap. The other lad, Clayde Mason Freedle, 13, is said to be four feet six inches tall, has light blue eyes, fair complexion, freckles across the nose, light hair, was wearing a blue shirt, blue overalls and tan shoes.

Better Babies Contest Closes

The Better Babies contest closed Wednesday noon with over two hundred babies examined within the three days. The awards for the best babies in town, city and rural classes will be made Friday, and at that time the prizes will be given.

The babies this year have been unusually attractive and healthy.

The physicians in charge say that they have found several 3-year-old children who can speak two and sometimes three languages. They speak English first, and then whatever tongue they have heard in the home.

There are not so many defective children to go through the clinic this year as in former years, and the physicians are at a loss to know the reason. It may be, they say, that the defectives are getting better care in their various communities and a clinic process is not so urgent at it was few years ago.

LITTLE JIMMY — She Did Her Best to Please at Least — —By SWINNERTON

BANK CERTIFICATE CAN BE ASSIGNED

Secretary Knudson Interprets Law Regarding "Non-Negotiable" Slips.

Purpose of Act Is to Protect State Guaranty Fund Against Fraud.

Although the law of Nebraska now requires certificates of deposit issued by state banks to have the word "non-negotiable" stamped across their face, that does not prevent their being assigned by the original holders to other persons in the course of business transactions and who ever comes into possession of such an assigned certificate can cash it, says Trade and Commerce Secretary Knudson, head of the state banking department.

Purpose of Law.

The purpose of the law, he explains, is to safeguard the state guaranty fund against fraudulent certificates of deposit after they change hands.

Certificates can still be used, Mr. Knudson points out, as collateral or medium of exchange in business transactions, but the person acquiring one of them will have no greater right than the original holder.

Where a bank illegally contracts with the certificate holder to pay more than 5 per cent interest on his deposit, the latter would be only a general creditor against the bank if it failed and he would not be paid from the guaranty fund. Under the new statute, if someone else bought the certificate he could not claim payment as an innocent purchaser," but would buy it at his own risk.

Rumor is Mistake.

"The rumor that these certificates bearing the word 'non-negotiable' cannot be cashed in other states or at other banks or by any other than the original owner is a mistake," said Secretary Knudson. "Such certificates are assignable and the endorsement of the original holders, as well as other additional endorsements, make the certificate eligible to be cashed by the bank that issued such certificate; in fact, the word 'Non-negotiable' on the certificate makes more clear the interpretation of the law than the old style certificate, and the assignee of such certificate has the same right as the original holder."

Attorney General Spillman has given his opinion in the matter as follows:

"You inquire whether or not the new law requires certificates of deposit to bear upon their face the information that the certificate is non-negotiable, and state that you have a customer whom you may lose if this is the case.

Intent of Law Makers.

"We regret very much if our customer feels that he must take his deposit out of your bank because of the provisions of law. He probably has the impression that because the certificate bears the word 'non-negotiable' that the certificate is not assignable. If we are not mistaken, it is merely the intention of the legislature to make these certificates of deposit assignable so that the purchaser or assignee would have no greater rights in the certificates of deposit than the original holder, and so that all defenses available as against the original holders would be available as against the assignee. Hence the legislature provided that the certificates should be marked 'non-negotiable.' This provision is set forth in Section 39, Chapter 191 at page 458 of the 1923 Session Laws, and we believe this provision to be mandatory."

Secretary Knudson's attention has also been called to the fact that a number of state banks have not as yet adopted this certificate form as required by law since July 1. For the protection of their customers as well as themselves, he says, banks should immediately print the word "non-negotiable on their certificates.

FINED ON CHARGE RECKLESS DRIVING

Ripping Into Side of Speeding Police Automobile Costs W. T. Funk $25.

W. T. Funk, 1610 R street, 20 years old, was fined $25 and costs in police court Wednesday morning on a charge of reckless driving, following an accident about 1 a. m. when an automobile he was driving crashed into an automobile loaded with police officers making a hurry-up call. Motorcycle Officer French, who was following a few feet behind the officers car, struck the auto and was injured about his shoulders and legs.

Detective George Eades, of Denver, who has been assisting the local department during fair week, and Officer F. C. Jones and Charles Rymer and Detective Buck Taylor, were driving south on Sixteenth street between O and N, when Funk, coming from the South, swung over on the left side of the street, intending to park on the east side, he said, and struck the car driven by Taylor, ripping along the side and tearing away the back fender. None of the officers in the car was injured.

NAVY AIRSHIP ZR-1 IN A SUCCESSFUL TRIAL JOURNEY

First Rigid Machine In Service Behaves Well In a Short Flight.

German Pilot Directing Operations Praises Craft's Staunchness.

(Associated Press)

LAKEHURST, N. J., Sept. 5.—The United States navy's first rigid airship ZR-1 docked at 7:15 daylight saving time last night, successfully completing its first trial flight.

The takeoff was made at 6:45 p. m. With engines two and three turning slowly the airship rose rapidly for 300 feet and headed due east into the wind.

At 7:45 Captain F. R. McCrary, in command, sent this radio message to Rear Admiral Moffett, chief of the bureau of aeronautics, who witnessed the flight: "After twenty minutes flying all is going well." Circling eastward toward the sea the great craft returned to the station just as dusk fell.

The hangar was flood lighted and spread on the ground were electrically illuminated signals. Slowly and under perfect control, the ship nosed toward the ground as one after another the engines were shut down as less power was required.

At 7:45, when up about 300 feet, the first anchor line was cast overboard, a red ball attached to the end bounding into the arms of the ground crew. One minute later a second line was thrown and in a few seconds 300 sailors and marines had secured hold of the vessel.

Congratulate Fliers.

Each propellor was stopped horizontally, enabling the power cars to rest directly on the ground. Admiral Moffett congratulated Captain McCrary and Commander Weyerbacker. Congratulations also were voiced by Col. C. G. Hall, official representative of the army air service. Captain McCrary said that the ship was handled perfectly.

Captain Heinen, the German pilot, directing operations, said:

"I have never flown a stronger ship."

In a statement to the Associated Press, Admiral Moffett said:

"By what we have done today we have demonstrated that the navy can design, construct and operate its airships. The success of today's flight may well be said to mark the completion of a new phase of world transportation. We believe that by designing, constructing and operating the ZR-1 in the face of not a little criticism and certainly much skepticism, we have justified our faith. If future trial flights of this airship proves to be as satisfactory as the first, the navy flight to the north pole unquestionably will be made. This will be done for commercial reasons as will also other flights which are contemplated."

Upholds Cop Who Has Dispute With Governor Bryan

Following a complaint made to police headquarters by Governor Charles Bryan, that he had had a controversy with a traffic officer at Seventeenth and Holdrege streets, Monday night, Chief of Police Peter Johstone questioned the officer, and believes that the officer, C. C. Rymer, was in the right.

After the fair was over the automobiles streamed out of the gates four abreast. This completely filled Seventeenth street and the traffic officers were directing part of the automobiles east over the Holdrege street viaduct and part west to Sixteenth street.

The car driven by the governor was on the left side of the street, according to the traffic officers story, so he directed it to go over to Sixteenth street, and relieve the congestion.

To this the governor demurred, so the chief says, and asked the officer where he got his authority. Meanwhile traffic behind Mr. Bryans car was jamming up.

"I get my orders from Chief Johnstone," the officer is said to have replied.

According to the chief Governor Bryan declared that was Chief Johnstone's superior officer, and that he had a right to go where he pleased. The officer insisted, however, and the governor turned over to Sixteenth street.

To Ask All Legion Posts to Assist In Japanese Relief

(Associated Press.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 5.—Following receipt of word from the Iowa department of the American Legion that members had pledged a fund of $3,000 for relief of suffers from the earthquake in Japan, Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of the Legion, announced he will suggest that all other state departments of the legion take similar action.

"The fact that many Japanese fought against Germany in the world war makes it especially appropriate that the legion should render assistance to the stricken people," Mr. Bolles said.

And Now Clothing Made of Tin Is on the Market, 'Tis Claimed

(International News Service.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Human beings are getting more and more like tomatoes and flivvers. Clothing for them is being made of tin.

That grief was unbuttoned today by C. E. Wry, executive director of the national retail clothiers' convention, for which he is preparing on September 24. Wry said large qualities of materials were being imported and palmed off on the gullible public as silk.

These fabrics, he explained, went through a process whereby they were soaked in molten tin, which gave them a sheen like silks. The clothiers want this stopped.

It's really quite serious. Plumbers and kettle menders are becoming tailors overnight. Sardine cans are disappearing from ash barrels and reappearing in a few days as lounge suits.

The tailoring is quite simple. If one needs a frock coat, it's the work of a moment to snip the patterns out of an old wash boiler with metal shears, rivet on a few patches for pockets, take a couple of tucks and pleats with the soldering iron and presto! you have the well dressed man.

They have some advantages however. Bell bottoms made of tin will actually ring. They'll keep a crease a long time, too. They're just as good as changeable silk. One goes for a stroll dressed in a Japanned gray, a shower comes up, your clothes rust and you're garbed in a tasteful brown.

Some of the new materials are dangerous. Wry said that when perspiration touched in shirts, the acid in it ate right through. No one can say where it will lead. If they treat cloth with TNT who wants to sleep in explosive pajamas or swim in a dissolving bathing suit?

FAVOR PARLEY ON AIR DISARMAMENT

Legion Referendum Shows An Overwhelming Sentiment For Conference.

Only Seventeen Replies Opposed to Proposed World Meeting.

(International News Service.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 5.—Sentiment among senators, congressman, newspaper editors and well-known citizens was shown to be overwhelmingly in favor of the calling of a world air disarmament conference by the result of a referendum conducted by the American Legion and announced today.

From a total of 335 replies received at the end of three weeks, it was found that 303 endrosed the legion's proposal, 5 gave qualified approval, 10 were undecided and 17 were opposed.

In the list of those voting were 21 senators, 76 congressmen, 14 governors, 158 newspaper editors, 35 college president and others.

Only two letters received by the legion during the past week expressed definite agreement with the stand of President Coolidge that the time is not propitious for the holding of a conference. They were from Governor James G. Scrugham, of Nevada, and Dr. Harry P. Pratt Judson, president of the University of Chicago.

Referring to the Washington arms conference, Governor Scugham said the limitation of navy armament was possible only because of changes developed in the art of war which made scrapping advisable.

HARBOR DAMAGED BY OCEAN SWELLS

Los Angeles Continues to Feel Effects of Quake and Tidal Waves.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 5.—Los Angeles harbor and other points on the southern California coast today continued to feel the effects of a terrific storm raging far out at sea and believed by mariners to be partly caused by the typhoons that followed the Japanese earthquakes and tidal waves.

As the result of a heavy surge that swept into the harbor and a strong current running up the coast the local harbor has suffering damage estimated at $50,000. Heavy lines and hawsers have been snapped like threads, it was reported. Twenty-two lines, twelve inches thick, failed to hold the Harry Luckenbach which broke from its moorings, but was not damaged.

The steamships Santa Paula and Sucubaco have arrived here from the east coast twenty-four hours ahead of schedule. It is believe this was caused by the strong currents which bore the vessels towards this port increasing their speed.

Reserves Decision On Move to Vacate Hotel Bankruptcy

The motion of Campbell and Flansburg, Lincoln attorneys, to set aside the bankruptcy proceedings in the Nebraska Hotel company case was argued Wednesday morning before Federal Judge Munger.

Alvin F. Johnson, Omaha attorney, appeared for the trustee, F. B. Taylor and John Stewart on behalf of the creditors, opposing the move to set aside the bankruptcy proceedings.

Judge Munger reserved decision on the case.

MUNICH—Adolph Pitter, the Bavarian fascisti leader, has been awarded a judgment of 6,000,000 marks against Verwaerts, the socialist Berlin organ, for slander. The newspaper charged that Pitler was being financed by American Semitic and bolshevistic funds.

ESTIMATE WHEAT PRODUCTION COST

Average Price Paid By Farmer to Produce Bushel of Grain $1.23.

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Reports compiled by the department of agriculture from 4,000 farmers in all parts of the country show an average production cost in 1922 for wheat of $1.23 a bushel, for corn, 66 cents and for oats 53 cents. Against these figures, the average sale price realized on the crop was $1.11 a bushel for wheat, 73 cents for corn and 43 cents for oats.

The coast figures, the department said, in announcing the compilation today, "include charges for the labor of the operator and his family and for use of the land."

The department added that it felt the figures closely approximate the average production costs incurred by farmers throughout the country during the period covered.

About People

State Representative W. A. McCain of Stapleton was a capitol visitor Wednesday. He is here to see the state fair and is enthusiastic over it. The Nebraska exposition, he thinks, is superior to that of Iowa and other neighboring states. Mr. McCain was chairman of a legislative committee which investigated expenditures and materials for the new capitol, during last winter's session. After viewing the progress of work on the building, he expressed himself Wednesday, as very much pleased with it.

State Representative A. F. Burke of Bancroft is seeing the state fair and renewing acquainteships in Lincoln.

HAS REPORTS ON WESTERN TOWNS

Wallace Thornton, Representative of Chamber of Commerce, On Tour.

Visits Chadron, Crawford and Hemingford to Study Conditions There.

Wallace Thornton, representative of the Lincoln chamber of commerce who is making a tour of the greater part of Nebraska, visited Chadron, Crawford and Hemingford this week and has submitted the following report:

"With its many paved streets, beautiful homes surrounded with trees and its wide business streets of fine buildings, Chadron has been appropriately named "The Garden Beyond the Sand Hills." The Northwestern has one of its largest shops located here and the railroad monthly payroll is nearly $300,000. The Nebraska Telephone company has its district headquarters with 200 employes and a monthly payroll of $125,000. The city has completed a gravity underground water system at a cost of nearly $200,000. According to chamber of commerce officials of Chadron there are approximately 40,000 head of cattle on the farms and ranches of Dawes county at the present time. The grass lands offer excellent opportunity for the production of beef at a minimum cost. Alfalfa is one of the leading crops of the county and much alfalfa seed of a high quality is produced for which there is a good demand. The three banks of Chadron carry combined deposits of over two million dollars.

Crawford.

The annual Tri-State Fair (Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming) will open at Crawford September 6. The fair will last three days and business men of Crawford predict that the program, as now planned, will surpass anything attempted in former years. For ten consecutive years this fair has been successfully conducted at Crawford, and which weather and ronds permitting it is expected to again attract larger crowds from Nebraska and surrounding states.

The city park, which is an attractive place includes a swimming pool golf course and tourist camp. Adjoining the park on the west is the fair grounds, with its half mile race track, athletic field and the many buildings for housing the exhibits. With continued good weather for three weeks, Crawford bankers say the county will produce the largest corn crop in history. Dairying, while it has always been an important industry in this county is steadily increasing and cream shipments show a substantial gain over previous years.

Hemingford.

The potato shipping season opened at Hemingford last week when two carloads were shipped to Kansas City. Hemingford is in the center of the potato raising territory of the state and between October 1, 1922 and April 1, 1923, shipped 500,000 bushels. The growing of dry land seed potatoes is an important part of the industry and over half the crop from this community goes into the irrigated regions and to the southern markets for seed. The wheat crop in this territory was good and the corn crop according to conservative estimates will average thirty-five bushels per acre while some fields will average as high as fifty and fifty-five bushels per acre.

Meredith Is Not Seeking Reelection

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 5.—E. T. Meredith, former secretary of agriculture, will not be a candidate next year for the United States senate from Iowa, according to a statement issued from his office here today.

"I have had no thought of entering politics again," the former secretary said. "Gossip which links my name to Iowa senatorial politics is absolutely without foundation."

CHICAGO GRAIN FIRM SUSPENDS

President Says Sawyer Company Caught Short On September Corn.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—The Sawyers Grain company suspended business today. William Simons, president of the company, said suspension was due to traders being caught short on September corn which went up faster than December corn on which the traders were long. He said the company will pay what it owes.

Immediately after announcement of the failure, J. J. Fones, secretary of the board of trade, declared that the company would close out all open trades and that the failure would have no effect on the market.

Officials of the company denied that the failure was precipitated by rumors that Governor McCray of Indiana, who owns stock in the concern, was trying to corner the corn market.

U. S. Congressman And Wife Are Safe

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Congressman Ernest R. Ackerman of New ersey, and his wife who were reported killed in Japan, are safe and well, said a message received this afternoon by Mrs. Ackerman's sister, Mrs. Frank L. Hatch. The cable message announcing their safety was filed from Nikko.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The barometer is still above normal in most of the country but an area of low pressure of considerable energy has appeared central north of Montana and extending southwest ward to eastern Idaho. The barometer has risen decidedly on the north Pacific coast with cooler weather. Showers have occurred in the lower Mississippi valley and the Gulf coast states.

Main-Eventer on Lincoln Program to Join Dempsey Fight Camp

DELANEY TO JOIN DEMPSEY'S CAMP

Main-Eventer In Lincoln Will Aid In Training Champion For Firpo Fight.

Will Board Train for the East Immediately Following Scrap With Shirley.

DEMPSEY TRAINS FOR SPEED.

(Associated Press.)

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Jack Dempsey plans to work with the mauling, hard hitting heavyweights for the balance of the week and then switch to light sparring partners to put him on edge. This task will fall to Jimmy Delaney, a 170-pounder of St. Paul, Minn., who helped condition Tommy Gibbons for his match with Dempsey last July 4, and Alex Trambitis, a shifty middleweight.

Delaney, a protege of Mike Gibbons, knows every trick in the pugilistic bag and possesses all of the boxing skill of the famous St. Paul fighter. He is a snappy hitter, shifty in footwork and boxes with the speed of a lightweight.

Refreshed by his layoff yesterday, Dempsey, in the opinion of handlers, is in superb physical and mental condition for the final spurt of his training campaign.

"I get all sorts of advice about Firpo," Dempsey said, "I don't care if they say he is tough or soft. I'm going to be ready. A fellow can't take any chances with a guy that can sock. I'm going into the fight to trade punches until something drops. And I hope that something wont be me. Wouldn't it be tough to get knocked over?"

The champion's sparring partners welcomed the rest yesterday but George Godfrey, the 225-pound negro, has become so accustomed to a punching every afternoon that he began to groan about 2:30 p. m. through force of habit.

BY "CY" SHERMAN.

A fistic treat of first rank is in store for boxing fans of Lincoln and the Cornhusker state at large, when the main event glover-whirlers—Jimmy Delaney of St. Paul and Jim Shirley of Denver, light-heavies—square off Thursday night in the American Legion post's fight program at Landis Field. Class of the main event may be better appreciated from the fact that Delaney has been summoned by Jack Kearns, manager of World's Champion Jack Dempsey, to Saratoga Springs, N. Y. to aid in giving the finishing touches to the title holder's training for the latter's championship rumpus with Luis Firpo, dated for Sept. 14 at the Polo Grounds, New York city.

Gibbons Reconsiders.

Invitation to Delaney to join the Dempsey camp was extended to the St. Paul light-heavy ten days ago and chronicled in The Star at the time. The bid was turned down by Manager Mike Gibbons, acting for Delaney, who exclaimed that his protege was booked for bouts in Lincoln and Oklahoma City and felt it necessary to take care of his own knitting.

Manager Kearns, however, was persistent and finally induced Mike Gibbons to revise his plans. As a result, Delaney will board an eastbound train immediately following the Thursday night glove carnival in Lincoln and be with Dempsey at least four days. Then Delaney will jump to Oklahoma City, where he will clash with Tommy Loughran, eastern light-heavy, in the main event of a mitten card dated for Sept. 14, the same night as the Dempsey-Firpo brawl.

Speed His Middle Name.

Evidently, Kearns knows his stuff in getting Delaney's services. The world's champion needs a speedy sparring partner in rounding out his training—and speed is Delaney's middle name. The St. Paul battler proved that much Tuesday afternoon in a workout with Len Schwabel, St. Paul lightweight who is to clash with Ace Hudkins, Lincoln lightweight, in the ten-round semi-windup of the Legion program in Lincoln.

"Delaney is the speediest boxer I ever inspected," Harry Reed, referee of Thursday night's main event declared today. "I saw him go several rounds with Schwabel yesterday afternoon and his speed was amazing. Denver Jim Shirley has been knocking out all opponents in recent bouts, but the Denver man surely will have a lot of trouble in getting himself set to land a punch on Delaney.

Worlds Champ Possibility.

"Honestly, Delaney is the fatest going scrapper I have ever seen. His speed actually made Schwabel, ordinarily a flashy stepper, look slow. I am not surprised that Dempsey's manager persisted until he landed Delaney as one of the champion's sparring partners. The truth of the matter is that Delaney is growing and gaining in weight. Some day, and it may not be long delayed, Delaney may be knocking at the door of the heavyweights and getting his crack at the world's championship of the heavy division. He showed enough yesterday to convince me that he has great possibilities."

Delaney and Shirley, main-eventers, and Schwabel and Hudkins, principals in the semi-windup, all were scheduled to perform in public Wednesday afternoon at the South Twelfth street gym, staging their final workouts in preparation for the Thursday show.

With the addition of ringside seats, the seating capacity of Landis Field has been increased to 4,000. Sale of reserved seat pasteboards for Thursday night is progressing at the Saratoga Parlors, Eleventh and P streets.

Firpo Rounds Into Shape.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept 5.—Luis Angel Firpo is convinced that he is rounding into shape and will be in the pink of condition when he meets Jack Dempsey on the night of September 14. And the Argentine believes he will annex the heavyweight title.

Firpo said today he did not know exactly when his "moment of triumph" would come, but was sure that some time during the fifteen rounds he will drive his powerful right through Dempsey's defense and the fight will be over.

Firpo went through his usual early morning jog today and followed this by gymnasium work and boxing.

Dempsey Resumes Training.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 5—Jack Dempsey went at his training with renewed vigor today, following a day of rest yesterday.

The champion plans to develop speed during the next week and most of his training for the rest of his stay here will be towards that end.

Dempsey expects to enter the ring against Firpo weighing about 189 pounds. He now weighs 193.

Lincoln Fighter On Thursday Card

ACE HUDKINS.

Boxing experts of Nebraska's capital city are confident Hudkins has the goods to outfight Len Schwabel flashy lightweight of St. Paul, in the ten-round semi-windup of Thursday night's American Legion glove carnival at Landis Field.

RECORD PACE ON NEBRASKA TRACK

Side-Wheelers Go Five Fast Heats During Tuesday's State Fair Program.

The opening program of harness racing at the 1923 Nebraska state fair provided some high class entertainment for the crowd which gathered at the exposition oval. A crowd which filled three-quarters of the big grandstand saw the Tuesday program.

The 2:10 pace, with a field of five entries, provided the sensation of the afternoon. Six heats were required before Del Spencer, bay gelding by Grattan McGregor, owned and driven by Ben Morgan of Toledo, Ia., was declared the winner over Rags, sired by The Triumph and owned by Edward Peterson of Omaha with Owen up.

Rags Off to Poor Start.

Rags got off to a poor start in the first three heats and finished fourth each time. The first heat went to Western Flyer, when Harrry R. leading the way on the second lap, broke just before the brush down the home stretch. The second heat was a close finish, with Del Spencer leading the way to the wire, with Western Flyer a close second. The horses finished the same in the third heat.

The fourth heat was won by Rags, Peterson's roan gelding taking the lead and never losing it. The fifth heat also went to Rags. The sixth and final heat was won by Del Spencer, Morgan's bay outstepping Rags on the back stretch and winning by three lengths.

Established a Track Record.

The 2:10 pace was productive of the five fastest heats ever paced on the Nebraska fair track. The first five heats were paced in better than 2:10. Western Flyer stepped the first heat in 2.08 1-4. Del Spencer turned in the same time in winning the second heat.

All Win Patch, bay gelding by Dan Patch, owned by A. Hart of Lincoln with E. Hart up, won the 2:17 trot. All Win Patch finished fifth in the first heat, but came back strong and led the field in the second, fourth and fifth heats. The race came close to going six heats when Sue Jolla, winner of the third heat, once flashed ahead in the final heat. Beezley's horse went into a break on the back stretch, but recovered in time to finish second. All Win Patch turned in the best time of 2:12 1-4 in the second heat. The trat drew a field of nine entries.

Golden Arch Easy Winner.

The 2:20 trot was won by Golden Arch, bay gelding, by Archdale, owned and driven by I. M. Larimore of North Platte. Larrimore's entry captured the big end of the $1,000 purse by winning in straight heats. The best time was made in the second heat—2:11 1-4. It was the eighth victory registered by Golden Arch this season.

The three-year-old and under pace went to Joe Bingen, b. g. by Gold Bingen, owned by Mrs. Zack Chandler, Kearney, with Chandler up. Joe Bingen won in straight heats.

Hahn Wins Trophies And National Title As Junior Champ

(Special to The Star.)

FALLS CITY, Neb., Sept. 5.—Carrying a suitcase fairly laden with trophies as the result of his athletic triumphs on the track durng the past three months, Lloyd Hahn, national junior A. A. U. mile champion, arrived here Tuesday afternoon for a month's visit with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Hahn.

Hahn, in shattering a record that had withstood all onslaughts for 14 years, when he ran the event in 4:23, made that time without any effort to try for a new mark, he declared in relating his experieces in the national A. A. U. meet at Chicago last week. His main thought was to win the event and he had expected to do the distance in 4:35 if possible and thus save himself for the senior championship against Joie Ray the next day. He was forced into the record-breaking time, however, by being challenged until near the finish. The record-breaking run is believed to have weakened him the next day for the senior championship, n which he finished third, Ray winning the event in 4:18. Hahn was clocked in 4:20

Sam Jones Hurls No-Hit Game for New York Yanks

(Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—Sam Jones of the New York Yankees pitched the first no-hit, no-run game of the season in the major leagues here yesterday, blanking Philadelphia 2 to 0. Jones was in great form. Only twenty-nine men faced him, of whom three reached first base. Galloway received a base on balls in the first inning. In the eighth Welch reached first on Scott's fumble and Dykes got on when he forced Welch at second. Jones had no strikeouts. The Yankees gave him brilliant support and many of the stops and throws were of a spectacular nature. There were nine outfield outs and eighteen in the infield, two of the latter being fouls to the catcher.

There was much cheering among the fans when Pitcher Jones went to the mound in the ninth. Many in the crowd wanted to see him get a no-hit game. With two out Galloway tried hard to reach first on a bunt, but was beaten by a step by the ball. The score: R. H. E.

Rice Suspened By Pilot of Senators

(Associated Press.)

BOSTON, Sept. 5—Sam Rice, right fielder of the Washington American league club, has been suspended indefinitely, Manager Bush announced. The penalty was inflicted because of Rice's too strenuous argument with his manager when he was criticized for his playing of a fly ball in the second Labor day game with the Red Sox.

Boy, bring a niche for Mr. Jones, of the New York Yanks. He shut out the Athletics without a hit, the Yanks w¾inning 2 to 0. It was the frits hitless game in the major league this season. Three men reached first base on a pass, an error by Scott and a force play.

FILES CLAIM ON LEONARD'S TITLE

Johnny Dundee Prepared to to Demand His Rights In Fight Imbroglio.

Asserts Postponement Due to Benny's Inability to Make the Weight.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

(International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Sept 5.—Declaring that he will be neither goat nor baa lamb in the summary postponeent of the lightweight championship bout scheduled for tonight, Johnny Dundee will go before the New York state athletic commission at 2 o'clock this afternoon weigh in at the lightweight limit of 135 pounds and lay claim to Benny Leonard's title and forfeit of $5,000 in the event the latter fails to put in an appearance.

That is the next step in the controversy between Leonard and Dundee, principals, and Jimmy Johnston, promoter, over Johnston's action in ordering a postponement on the ground that "Dundee is not in condition to do himself justice."

Never In Better Trim.

"I was never in better condition and will prove it before the commission," Dundee said. "Any physician will bear me out. I weigh 128 pounds, my speed and wind are good, my hands are perfect. Look at them. Not a bruise nor a mark.

"They can't make me the goat in this difficulty. If Leonard isn't at the commission's offices at 2 o'clock to weigh in, I will lay claim to the forfeit. If he isn't at the Yankee Stadium at the scheduled hour tonight, I will lay claim to his title. They overmatched themselves when they tried to shift the responsibility to me. Leonard cannot make the weight and has asked for this postponement.

Public Opinion Divided.

Public opinion is divided, some believing Leonard has found the weight too much for him and others alleging that Johnston has not sold tickets in the manner to which he is accustomed. The promoter, however, declared that the advance sale has been "tremendous."

Speaking for Leonard, Billy Gibson stated that he did not see the necessity for the lightweight champion weighing in today, now that a postponement has been demanded.

Benny's anager Speaks.

"However, if they want Leonard to prove that he is a legitimate lightweight," Gibson added, "he will do that in short order."

Meantime, William Muldoon, chairman of the commission, has announced his intention of being present for the weighing-in ceremony, since neither he nor the commission has been notified officially of the postponement.

ALTOON, Pa., Sept. 5—Howard Wilcox veteran Indianapolis automobile racer, was fatally injured in the inaugural 200-mile race on the new Altoon speedway yesterday afternoon when his car skidded and overturned on the 117th lap. His neck was broken. Wilcox died a few minutes later as he was being taken to an emergency hospital at the speedway grounds. Wilcox was in third place when the accident occurred.

Driving the 200-mile grind without a stop Eddie Hearne, another veteran driver, won the race. His time was 1:47:37 35, at the rate of 111½ miles an hour. Jerry Wonderlich was second, Dave Lewis third, Fred Comer fourth, Benny Hill fifth, Frank Elliott sixth, Leon Duray seventh and Tommy Milton eighth.

Hearne Leads the Drivers.

By winning the race, Hearne took the lead in the 1923 automobile racing championship race officials declared. Jimmy Murphy, who is abroad, has a total of 1,079 points. Hearne had 802 points and his victory today gave him an additional 400 points or a total of 1,202.

Times of the other leading drivers were Wonderlich 1:48:53.28; Lewis, 1:50:16.49; Comer, 1:55:07.47; Hill, 2:00:7.21.

In addition to Wilcox, four other drivers did not finish the race. They were Harlan Fengler, Earl Cooper, Harry Hartz and L. L. Corum. All were forced out by engine trouble. Hartz' car catching fire.

THE ? BOX

Q: Batter swings at third strike. Catcher muffs the ball and batter reaches first. Does the pitcher get credit for a strikeout?—STAR READER, Crete Neb.

A: Yes, a strikeout by the pitcher regardless of subsequent happenings. The pitcher has done his share toward retiring the batter and should be credited with a strikeout, even though the batter gets to first On such a play the catcher should be charged with an error, provided the third strike was not a wild pitch.

LONGS FOR RAP AT BIG FELLOW'S JAW

Jack Dempsey Anxious to Try His Wallop On Challenger From the Argentine.

Champion Promises to Give Firpo Right Smart Socking In Sept. 14 Fight.

BY FRANK G. MENKE.

(Copyright 1923 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Off in the distance lie the Adirondack mountains with their summits partially hidden within a hazy blue; just a few feet away from the little cottage which is Jack Dempsey's present home is the shore of Lake Saratoga, where wavelets roll and break in restless, ceaseless fashion.

Jack Dempsey must have absorbed some of their characteristics, for the champion, nervous, never still, paces around on the porch, then strolls to the edge of the beach and pauses just long enough to hazard the wish that this were September 14.

"And why?"

"Because I want to get busy operating on that big boy from the Argentine," he answered. "I've been spoiling for a fight like this one. Firpo is a giant, they say he can take an awful socking and that anybody who whips him will have to step to his limit. Nothing can make me gladder than that. I don't like to fight little fellows. Mixing it with giants—that's the real thing.

Not Framing Alibi.

"I'm not trying to make any alibis for not knocking the little fellows right into the arms of the village undertaker, but I'd like to say that whenever I go up against a fellow who is only my own size or smaller I never let loose with everything I have. I'm sort of afraid that maybe if I do I'm liable to do some fearful damage. I just aim to punch those fellows down gradually rather than knock 'em into the middle of the Atlantic ocean with one or two wallops.

"But giants—gosh, I like to fight 'em. They're so big that I'm never fearful of hurting them. So I just tear in and let fly with about everything I've got. Did it with Willard, Fulton and Morris. And when I get Firpo—well, after that young battle is over those who think I have lost my socking power may have some new ideas.

Chuckles at the Experts.

"It always gives me a chuckle when I read about my being the fighter without a defense. They've said that prior to every battle which I ever fought. All the dear little experts have pointed out that I don't seem to throw any protection around my jaw and that I'm always wide open. Which is true—in a certain way.

"But what man has ever knocked me since I have been champion, barring that right-hander which George Carpentier landed?

"I figure that I don't need any defense such as other fighters use. The speed which is mine and my trick of crowding, crowding all the time—that makes a defense on my part rather unnecessary, doesn't it? Just by tearing into my foeman round after round I keep that baby so busy trying to get out of my way that he can't find much time for slugging me.

Spurns Orthodox Defense.

"So if a man doesn't get a chance to swing at me what's the use of my striving for the orthodox defense which other fighters use?

"I've been told that I'm a mark for an uppercut and that Firpo shoots out a murderous one. I hope he does. Those uppercut things are great—when they land. But when they fail—well, that's different.

"All I hope is that Luis does let loose with a few uppercuts I'll be waiting around for those tries. When they happen, and both sides of his jaw are exposed, Luis may find that even before the uppercut has completed its trip, that one or another of my paws will be nestling against his chin.

Praise for Tommy Gibbons.

"Just because I failed to stop Tommy Gibbons some folks think I've skidded quite a bit. That's because they underestimate the cleverness of the boy from St. Paul. He's the slipperiest, trickiest man in the ring today. Because of that, and because he can take a beating better than any man I ever fought, he was on his feet at the finish

"But Firpo—well, Luis is something different again.

"And I'll prove it September 14

"I'll go into the ring that day with the sole thought of re-establishing myself as a slugger and when I come out of it the world will concede that I have accomplished by purpose."

Firpo Real Wild Man; Lunches On Raw Red Meat

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 5.—If P. T. Barnum were living he would employ Louis Angel Firpo, put him in a tent and write a sign on the front "The Argentine Wildman—Eats Raw Meat, Bathes in Icewater, Washes with Common Soap and Sleeps on a Bed of Rocks"—and tell the truth.

The South American bathes in ice water and uses the commonest of common soap. Between meals he goes into the kitchen, passes the time of day with Albertino, the chef, and takes a piece of uncooked sirloin to chew on.

And when the time for retiring comes and the trainers and interpreters and the sparring partners hop in their beds, Louis Angel goes to his room, takes the mattress off the couch, throws it on the floor and lies down to rest. When morning comes and it is time to get up, he usually may be found curled up in a corner on the floor.

"Beds," says he, "are not comfortable."

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.

Stock prices resumed their upward movement today after an early period of irregularity. Buying power was supplied chiefly by shorts who covered previous commitments and by speculators for the advance, who endeavored to discount the benefits that would accrue to certain companies as a result of orders arising from the Japanese disaster. Sales approximated ...

Speculative sentiment was somewhat unsettled at the opening of today's stock market, the general list displaying an irregular tone. Bethlehem Steel dropped a point and Baldwin, General Asphalt and Cosden yielded fractionally on initial sales. Davis Chemical advanced 2½, DuPont 1¼, Marine preferred 1¼ and Cuyamel Fruit 1.

Prices steadied after the early selling orders had been absorbed. Davison Chemical extended its gain to 4⅜ and U. S. Rubber, Allied Chemical, Canadian Pacific and New Orleans, Texas & Mexico moved up 1 to 1¾. Mallison Silk rose 2¾, but American Can and Loose-Wiles each dropped 1. Foreign exchanges opened heavy.

Trading in the usual market leaders was restricted during the greater part of the morning, operators showing a disposition to await more definite indications of the economic consequences of the Japanese disaster before extending their commitments. Bullish operation were conducted, however, in several specialties, particularly ing the food group. Beechnut Packing, Cuyamel Fruit, Loose Wiles Bisquit and National Biscuit were pushed up 2 to 3 points, the last named touching a new high for the year. Around neen the advance became more general, such stocks as Baldwin, American Can and Corn Products selling a point or more above yesterday's final quotations. Call money opened at 5¼ per cent.

Stocks of companies which are expected to benefit from a larger demand for their products as a result of the Japanese disaster, were bid up strongly, notably the steel and textile issues which advanced 1 to 3 points. The whole market was galvanized into a show of strength, railroads moving up 1 to 2 points and some of the popular specialties even more. Davis Chemical, however, fell back from 46⅞ to 43¼ on profit taking.

The closing was strong. The sharp recovery in sterling exchange and a jump of $4 a bale in cotton prices accelerated the advance in stocks in the late dealings when the best prices of the day were recorded.

GRAIN MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 5

WHEAT—Reports that Greece had bought 20,000 tons of durum and hard winter wheat for shipment from the U. S. was a factor today in causing wheat to average a little higher in price during the early dealings. Firmness of Liverpool quotations in the face of yesterday's decline here, counted also as a bullish influence. On the other hand, suspension of business by a grain company here as a result of financial difficulties acted as a check on buyers. The opening, which varied from ⅛ to ⅝c higher, with September $1.01⅞@1.02⅛ and December $1.06@1.06⅛, was followed by a moderate setback and then something of a rally.

Offerings increased in the later dealings, but the market was sustained by predictions of rain in Canada likely to delay the crop movement and by gossip that Russia would prohibit grain exports. terday's finish to ⅛c lower, September The close was steady at the same as yes$1.01⅞ and December $1.05⅝@1.05¾.

CORN—Closing out trades by an embarrassed grain company had a depressing influence on corn and oats. After opening unchanged to ¼c lower, December 67¾@67⅞c, the corn market continued to sag.

Need of continued favorable weather helped to hold the market later The close was steady at ⅛@⅛c net decline. December 62½c.

OATS—Oats started at ¼c decline to ⅛c advance, December 39⅛@39⅜c, and later showed additional losses and then recovered somewhat.

PROVISIONS—Lower quotations on hogs weakened the provisions market.

BANNER CROWD AT STATE FAIR ON FOURTH DAY

could easily be discerned from the large number of cars from outlying counties. It was also noticeable that visitors were studying exhibits and displays closer Wednesday morning than on previous days. Many of the buildings were crowded and most of them were filled.

The Farmers Union program called for moving pictures in its building during the afternoon in addition to those shown in auditorium in the evening. The Farm Bureau had not announced any special attraction or program on the grounds.

Hundreds of persons were alighting from incoming trains that stop at the grounds.

Judging in all classes was still in progress during the forenoon Wednesday and continued in the afternoon. Awards are expected to be made Thursday. On Friday morning all champion livestock will be paraded through the main streets and through the Coliseum. A dairy and Shetland pony parade at noon Wednesday was a feature of the day's program.

The finals in the horseshoe tournament started 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The contest had narrowed down to sixteen contestants, two of the leaders being boys of twelve and fourteen years old.

Work of Public Schools.

Individual displays in the public school exhibits on the balcony of Agricultural hall are drawing considerable attention. Especially interesting is a model steam engine which is pulling a thresher whose straw stacker pokes into a model barn. It is supposed to represent a modern threshing scene. The machinery is worked out in detail. Four aeroplanes of different sizes and shapes and an auto truck are also entered in this contest. One of the novel entries is a minature hay baler.

One of the most refreshing spots on the ground is the center of agricultural hall where the state florists have arranged clumps of plants and flowers around a running fountain which cools the surrounding air. Graveled paths run in and around this centerpiece. In an ice cooled case are a large number of beautiful floral pieces, among which is an American flag of flowers.

No Trouble on Grounds.

Since the Fair began Sunday, not an accident or disturbance has marred the exhibition. Visitors speak well of both the exhibits and the entertainment. Showmen and exhibitors are bringing a minimum number of complaints to headquarters where the few are dispatched quickly and with directness. The operation of the enormous institution has been reduced to a definite system.

Fifty head of boys' and girls' club baby beef will be sold at the agricultural extension hall 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. These animals have been raised by club members and participated in the contest which ended Tuesday. All the animals except those which will be shown at county fairs will be sold.

Judging Begins Thursday.

Starting 8 o'clock Thursday morning, teams of boys and girls will judge beef and dairy cattle, foods, clothing and crops. The contestants will be scored on their ability to place these animals and rticles in the proper order.

"How many products do you market?" is the question asked by the farm management and agronomy booth in the agricultural extension hall. This opening question is strung across the top of the booth. Below it are two divisions. Hank Smith is a grain farmer and "Sell the grain" s his motto. He feeds no livestock. He has an uncertain income, a heavy gamble with crop failure or over production and his labor problem—16 hour day in summer, 4 hour day in winter. His 160 acre farm produces 30 bushels of oats to the acre, 30 bushels of corn, 2.5 tons of alfalfa and 20 bushels of wheat. He has 13 acres of pasture.

Bill Jones believes n diversified farming. He has the advantage over his neighbor in that he has a constant income, less danger of surpluses, constant employment, and a good fertile soil getting better instead of poorer.

He keeps twice as many cows, three times as many brood sows, the same number of horses and twice as many hens. He usually feeds out a carload of hogs and baby beeves each winter.

His farm produces at the rate of 40 bushels of oats per acre, 40 bushels of corn, 34 bushels of barley, 2.6 tons of alfalfa, and 28 bushels of wheat. He has 4 acres of Sudan grass, 7 acres of sweet clover and 14 acres of pasture.

The visitors draw their own conclusions. Averages were made of the central part of the state. Man labor distribution is more even on the dievrsified farm and also net income is larger. These are the two important items in the problems of the Nebraska farmer.

A Million German Marks Are Worth Only 4 3-4 Cents

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Additional new low records for the year were established in the foreign exchange market today by British and German currency. Demand sterling was quoted at $4.50 5-8, the decline being attributed to speculative expectation of heavy drafts being drawn on London as a result of the Japanese disaster.

German marks sold as low as 4 3-4 cents a million, as against a high mark of 7½ cents yesterday.

NATURALIST DEAD.

A series of conferences of national scope is planned in support of a campaign for domestic mission work. Among leaders at the meeting were Dr. M. G. Dunn, Portland, Ore., and Dr. G. E. Raitt, Pasadena, Cal., who presided.

REPORTS DISASTER NOT OVERDRAWN

suka naval station have been wiped out. This message sent by a former Japanese consul general who is now at Shanghai added, that more than half of Tokio had been destroyed.

Volcano Is Active.

From Osaka comes a dispatch asserting that a new volcano has broken into activity in the Chichihu range 30 miles northwest of Tokio.

Meanwhile the towns unaffected by the disaster, are bending every effort to relieve the condition of millions who are believed to be suffering from injuries and lack of food. Cargoes of rice are arriving at Yokohama, and Shiragawa.

The efforts of the Japanese themselves are soon to be augmented by aid from across the Pacific. Seven United States destroyers and a cruiser are speeding to Yokohama with supplies, while two army transports expect to steam from Manila for Japanese waters today. All shipping board vessels in the far east have been ordered to take any part in the relief work that may be assigned to them by Admiral Anderson. Shipping board steamers in Pacific coast ports have received instructions to suspend freight and passenger bookings for thirty days so as to insure the transportation of relief supplies.

Damage Incalculable.

(International News Service.)

SHANGHAI, Sept. 5.—With the re-establishment of partial communication to Japan, the unprecedented disaster which has stunned the world and rendered millions of persons in the island empire homeless, with a loss of life variously estimated at from 300,000 to 500,000, the catastrophe is being unfolded to an anxious world in dispatches today which are trickling through direct from the stricken country for the first time since the earthquake, conflagration and that wave laid waste an area said to be 100 miles square.

The property damage is incalculable.

Twenty-four foreigners, including several Americans who are known to have lost their lives in the calamity, are reported to be dead at Yokohama. The number of dead in the capital city of Tokio which was almost completely destroyed, is unknown. Earlier reports indicate the foreign quarter of the city was demolished with possible heavy loss of foreign lives.

Electric lights in the Tokio wards of Hongo and Kioshikawa were turned on for the first time in almost a week. Seven of the wards or suburbs were obliterrated. A portion of the water supply system in the remaining wards has been repaired and these communities are being served.

A Tokio reporter of the Asahi, a newspaper, who escaped in the height of the seismic disturbances at Yokohama Sunday night and after three days and nights travel by foot reached Osaka today. He reported that all towns and villages between the two cities had been demolished with an appalling loss of life. These communities included Hachioji, Atsuki, Hiratzuku, Kodzu, and Totemba.

Islanders Swept Away.

Confirmation has been received that the populous island of Oshima, with its 50,000 souls has been inundated with not a trace remaining.

Oshima was the largest island of the Idzu group.

The Far Eastern review here received a cable from the stricken country indicating that its offices were destroyed, but the fate of its personnel was not given. The cable added that all banks in Tokio and Yokohama were reduced to debris and funds were unavailable.

From Pekin came reports that 1,000 refugees who had taken refuge in the military depot at Tokio were burned to death. All cities, towns, and hamlets of Idzu, Tokaheo, Bozo, and Miura peninsulas, were wiped out. The total population of the peninsulas is more than 100,000.

ITALY PRESENTS FLAT REFUSAL

Says Crisis Passed.

BY HAMILTON FISH, JR.

(Member Foreign Affairs Committee of House of Representatives.)

ABOARD STEAMSHIP PIERRE LOTI IN MEDITERRANEAN, Sept. 5—(By Wireless)—When I left Athens last night the war cloud seemed to have blown over in Greece, but it overhangs Belgrade, pending the league of nations decision.

The Greek foreign minister assured me that Greece would not declare war under any circumstances unless the Greek mainland was invaded.

Greece is quiet. No warlike agitation is permitted. No military meausres have been taken, except the withdraway of the fleet behind the screen of mines near the Salamina forts.

But the Greek foriegn office reports great excitement in Jugo-Slavia where the situation is evidently serious.

It develops that the Italian officials who were delimiting the Greek Albanian frontier were stabbed in their beds and not killed by rifle fire.

LIFE AND CHARACTER READING.

People born on this date are natural chemists, and often excel in newspaper work as editors, from their knowledge of reading public. They rebound quickly from defeat or disaster, because having great endurance and aptitude they surmount every obstacle and almost every difficulty. As proofreaders they are exceedingly accurate.

People of this date should keep clear of drugs and strong medicines. They do not need it. Nature is their strongest, unfailing remedy for every ill. They are apt to pick everything and everybody to pieces, and because of this analytical tendency and a great discouragement to others, especially those who are not talented in giving reason for the faith that is in them.

The governing sign of this date is Virgo, and the governing planet Mercury.

OLD WORLD AS SEEN BY SLOAN

Former Solon Says Europe Full of Brainstormers Who Never Deliver.

Has Delightful Trip Hiking and Riding Through Several Nations.

C. H. Sloan of Geneva, former congressman and prospective candidate for United States senator, is just returning from a European tour, during which he visited most of the continental countries, as well as England and Ireland, and had an audience with the pope at Rome. He has written some of his impressions to Chairman E. B. Perry of the republican state committee.

Europe, says Mr. Sloan, is full of political "brainstormers" who promise anything and everything in order to get into power, but none of them so far has been able to 'deliver the good."

Before handing out the Sloan letter to the newspapers, Judge Perry deleted certain passages. One sentence as thus censored reads:

'Two things are demonstrated on the continent: that—— and railway ownership are unthinkable."

The ex-congressman wrote from Dublin under date of August 20, saying he and Mrs. Sloan would sail on the Leviathan a week later. Among his observations were the following:

Changes Affairs at Home.

"Harding's death introduces a rather new state of affairs at home and will have its influence in our state.

I have little to say. I found that I could not look at Europe, talk to two or three interested statesmen and form and express an elaborate opinion about how to solve the European troubles. However, I observed that young cattle are more plentiful in Germany than anywhere else we have been. Europe is raising foodstuff nearly sufficient for its own needs. Russia is materially aiding Europe on the wheat question. The United States, except in the event of a shortage should produce little more than its own needs and retain our present protection. We should do all we can to develop meats. Every country is interested in the eradiction of tubreulosis, but most of them are back where we were ten years ago. Holland and Sweden and also many other countries are following our course, but at considerable distance. They all are trying to do all they can in this direction.

Not Over Scrupulous.

There is nothing we have but what Europe wants—and is not over scrupulous about how it shall be obtained. We traveled through Germany, Czecho-Slovakia, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, France, England, Scotland and Holland. We walked miles of galleries and museums; saw cathedrals in use and ruins to cover a square mile, visited several parliaments; had audience with the pope; gondoliered in Venice; climbed Vesuvious and went through the ruins of Pompeii; spent an hour—that was all—in Monte Carlo, climbed Mt. Blanc and the Jungfrau in Switzerland, lived the virtuous life in vicious Paris; flew by plane from there to London; lived several days in and about London; went through the town, listened to the story of weakness and wickedness as related by guests about kings and queens and dukes.

See Shakespeare's Birthplace.

Was up where Gray's 'Elegy' was written and spent considerable time at Shakespeare's birth—acting —and resting places. Was at Edinburgh where favoritism is divided between Mary, Queen of Scots, and Sir Walter. Gathered heather in the highlands, visited Rob Roys grave and walked in the footprints of the 'Lady of the Lake'—we wore the same number of shoes—saw the great idle shipyards in Glasgow on the Clyde; sailed to Belfast; visited the home of my grandfather, Charles Sloan, who was compelled to leave his linen weaving and go to America on account of the Cobden free trade act; went to Caven, whence my sainted mother had the good judgment to go 85 years ago. Am here at Dublin where we listened to our own John McCormack sing; saw the hole in the back of the cap through which Collins was shot, and the monuments of Moore, Goldsmith, O'Connell and Grattan, which brings us up to date.'

Council Approves Pavement of Three Residence Streets

Routine matters only were taken up at the postponed meeting of the city council held Tuesday afternoon.

Ninth street from South to Peach and Nineteenth from N to K and M street from Eighteenth to Twenty-first, will be paved.

The matter of paving North Twenty-third street was taken up, but no definite decision reached. The majority of the councilmen seem to favor paving this strip immediately. It will probably have to be ordered in, it being within a mile and one-half of the city hall, the limit in which paving can be ordered.

George C. Joy was awarded the contract for constructing the foundations for new boilers at the municipal light plant. He bid $10,763. The time limit was set at forty-five days from the time the city engineer orders the work to start.

The contract to furnish coal for the water and light department was given to the City Fuel company. Recently, all bids were rejected and Commissioner Schroeder empowered to buy in the open market.

A world beater on the hills.

The Reckless Age

By HAZEL DEYO BATCHELOR.

Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company.

Aline Foster is a spoiled member of the younger set who thinks men were made for her amusement. She engages herself to Charley Tyne merely for the sake of being engaged and later when Charley breaks the engagement because of her flirtation with Mason Long, a writer, Aline is astounded. She finds herself actually in love with him, but when she discovers that he is using her for copy in a novel he is doing on the jazz age, it is a terrific blow to her pride. When Mr. Foster meets with financial reverses Aline decides to do something with her life. She goes to Matthew Hutchins, a big producer, and he gives her a chance. At the first rehearsal of his play he humiliates her before the entire cast and for the first time in her life Aline's spirit is broken and she is humble.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

The Opening.

In the weeks that followed, Aline threw herself with utter abandon into the part of Letty. Here her marvelous health proved a good asset, for she thrived on the hard work, and Hutchins was never quite so merciless toward her as he had been that first day.

When she grasped his meaning, he even encouraged her, and gradually she began to imagine the part, she began to sink herself more and more into Letty's personality, until one day when she had finished rehearsing her big scene, Hutchins said quietly:

"Good work."

Aline drew a long breath. She felt childishly excited. It seemed to her that nothing had ever counted so much as that praise from Hutchins, and yet when Lavinia Carew came to her at the end of the rehearsal and congratulated her upon putting the part over, Aline felt more grateful than exultant.

"Thank you," she said shyly, "you don't know what it means to me to have you say that."

Lavinia Carew looked at the girl out of shrewd blue eyes. She wondered if Aline were as innocent as she looked, for Matthew Hutchins never worked with anyone as he had with Aline unless he was practically sure of having made a discovery.

Ten years ago Lavinia had been his discovery, and she would go on playing with him for years to come, for she was only thirty-five. But Aline was made of different material. After she had served her novitiate with Hutchins she would be able to play parts that to Lavinia Carew would be impossible. She had more fire, more passion, while Lavinia's charm lay in her whimsical appeal and she was well aware of that fact.

Aline was unconscious of the close scrutiny of the older woman, and there was something about her that made Lavinia certain she was not feigning innocence.

"I won't say a thing to her," Lavinia thought, making up her mind suddenly. "Hutch had his own reasons for picking on the girl during the first days of rehearsal, perhaps he felt that she had too much ego, and if so, I'm not going to spoil her by flattery just now."

And so she said nothing more, and the rehearsals went on. Each day Aline felt surer of herself, more certain of her ability to portray the part of Letty. She had grown to feel that she was Letty; sometimes she had an uncannny sensation of seeing the world through Letty's eyes, and this was of course due to the fact that her imagination had been stimulated, and she had learned to subordinate her own personality.

On the night of the opening of "The Probe" Aline suffered no agony of fear. Dressed in her shabby stage costume, she stood in the wings watching the play with eager eyes. Out front were her father and mother and Phyllis and George. No one else knew anything about her stage debut, for this new Aline who had developed under Matthew Hutchins' careful training had no desire to be known. Her name had gone down on the program as Alicia Fenway and she had decided against the use of her own name lest any of the old crowd seek her out.

Just before it was time for her entrance, she had a qualm of misgiving. Suppose her nerve should forsake her. Suppose after all Matthew Hutchins had done for her she were to break down in the part!

But a moment later when she walked out on the stage she had forgotten all about herself. She was not Aline Foster, nor even the shadowy Alicia Fenway. She was Letty, just Letty! The part gripped her, and she spoke her lines confidently in that lovely contralto voice of hers that later was to prove no small part of her enormous popularity.

Paying of Fine In Pennies Is Costly For This Speeder

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., Sept. 5.—A few days ago Charles Korss, a San Francisco grocer, was fined $5 for speeding in San Rafael. He mailed the fine from San Francisco, in pennies, tied in separate packages of 100 pennies each. It cost 18 cents postage.

Yesterday he was hailed up before the court for contempt and was fined an additional $50 and sent to the county jail for five days, the judge figuring that he was holding the court too cheaply by sending the original fine in pennies.

Radio Programs For Farmers to Begin Wednesday

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Weekly farmers' programs by radio will be started here this evening by the American farm bureau federation when President O. E. Bradfute and Secretary J. W. Coverdale will speak on the farm topics. More than thirty state farm bureaus and a thousand county farm bureaus have notified members of these weekly radio talks which will be broadcast each Tuesday night at 8:01, central standard time. Ultimate plans provide for a farm program from some station of the country nearly every night of the week.

CHICAGO—The city building department after much delay issued a permit for the construction of a new union station which will cost, according to the application, $16,000,000.

Appetite Gone?

A tempting, delicious looking meal—all the choicest morsels from a well stocked pantry. The fragrant aroma of all these good things failing to put a keen edge on your appetite—failing to arouse, in any degree, a hardy relish for the food so attractively placed before you. Why?

Scores of men and women are faced with the same misfortune. After a day of toil—when they are tired—when good things to eat should be ravishly sought to recharge their vitality and fit them for play time—their stomachs turn. They are worn down, played out. Food has no appeal. To them it is sickening. The aroma of appetising things nauseates them.

Red blood cells are missing. Red blood which should be coursing through your veins strengthening your vitality—adding to your strength—keeping you healthy and fit—is not to be found.

S. S. S. is what is needed. Your blood needs purifying. What use is an automobile without a battery? What advantage is a dynamo without electricity? Your body is a human dynamo. Your blood cells supply the energy which keeps your body well and fit. Weakened blood cells make you like the storage battery with dry cells—power is lacking—energy gone—productive qualities at the lowest ebb. S. S. S. supplies the red blood cells—the spark that recharges your system.

Mr. James Chaloupka, Sherman School, Chillicothe, Ohio, writes:

"I feel like a new man after taking S. S. S. It gave me a better appetite and cleared my skin of pimples and blackheads."

Carefully selected, scientifically proportioned and prepared herbs and barks make up S. S. S.—the great blood purifier. Give nature a helping hand. Get back the lost appetite—the missing vitality—the keen, sparkling eyes—that look of determination. The best way to start back over the road to well being is with S. S. S. Nerves will become stronger. S. S. S. will give you more energy, vitality and vigor, and a more "up and going" appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all leading drug stores. Try a bottle and see for yourself. The large size bottle is more economical. Get one today.
